I, a Southern Gentleman, am Named

Well, way back in 1901, after I had been in this bright, happy world for several years, I began to get worried like. I didn't know why.

Folks were calling me "it" and "the new one" and "what's he call it?" I didn't like it a bit. Then one day I heard the Big Chief telephoning all his department heads to meet in his office.

Pretty soon they all came filing in. Tall chaps, short chaps, fat chaps and skinny chaps. "Now that he is here," said the Big Chief, "what will you name him?"

My! how they wrangled and wrangled and wrangled. You know, you have heard them argue whether He'll be called Jack or John or Jim before. Finally, one fellow spoke up and said:

"Why not call him 'SOVEREIGN'? His mother was a Virginian, his father an aristocrat of the Carolinas. He comes from the very best stock. He comes from the very sweetest, rippest, mellowest Virginia and Carolina tobacco. He is being raised right in one of the cleanest, whitest, healthiest homes on earth. He is a Southern born, a Southerner bred, a Southern gentleman—the king of them all—a real SOVEREIGN.

The Folks of the South KNOW good blood.
The Folks of the South KNOW good tobacco.

SOVEREIGN—the best—is none too good a name." So I was named, friend, for I want you as one of my friends, and it means as a whole heap when I say—

I am guaranteed by The American Tobacco Company. I am the Sovereign. I cost you as much as the best. I give you as much as the best. I am the Sovereign. For you have a right to the Sovereign. And I am solemnly pledged to you to provide every cigarette you smoke with a capital letter. As I said, I am the Sovereign. And I am the Sovereign. And I am...
