A young man, who is a member of the Lowryville Baptist Church, recently held a tent meeting there, and the next day received a letter from Rev. Mr. Creech, of the Methodist Church, saying that he had gone to Crawford and had been very much interested in the proceedings. He is a most cordial reception, which was most highly appreciated. The meeting was a very successful one, and the secretary, Mr. James Prak Dye, is a very good man, and one who is well informed on the subject of religion. He is an ardent admirer and supporter of the Baptist Church, and has given much help and encouragement to the movement. The meeting was held in the Sunday School room of the church, and the Rev. Mr. Creech, of the Methodist Church, was the presiding officer.
