The Chester Lantern 1901

2-5-1901

The Lantern, Chester S.C.- February 5, 1901

J T. Bigham

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/chesterlantern1901

Part of the Journalism Studies Commons, and the Social History Commons

Recommended Citation

https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/chesterlantern1901/10

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the The Chester Lantern at Digital Commons @ Winthrop University. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Chester Lantern 1901 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Winthrop University. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@mailbox.winthrop.edu.
THE LANTERN.

Vol. IV. No. 34

CHESTER, S. C., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1902.

PUBLISHED UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

COTTON MILL RETURNS

An investigation by an expert of the Oliphant Shawing Supplies Factory in North Carolina has revealed that the machinery used in the manufacture of cotton in that state is not being operated at its maximum efficiency. The investigation was conducted by an expert who has been studying the problem for several months.

The expert found that the machinery was not being used to its full capacity due to a lack of proper operation and maintenance. He stated that the machinery could be operated at its full capacity if proper attention is given to its operation and maintenance.

The report also recommends the establishment of a central maintenance facility to ensure that the machinery is operated properly. The facility would be responsible for providing training to the workers on how to operate the machinery properly.

The expert also recommended the establishment of a system for the regular inspection of the machinery to ensure that it is operated properly. The system would involve regular inspection of the machinery by trained personnel.

In conclusion, the expert stated that the lack of proper operation and maintenance is a major cause of the machinery not being operated at its maximum efficiency. The establishment of a central maintenance facility and a system for the regular inspection of the machinery would go a long way in ensuring that the machinery is operated properly and at its maximum efficiency.

MILCH COWS

The milk production of the milch cows in the United States has increased significantly in recent years. The increase in milk production has been attributed to the improved breeding practices and the use of modern farming techniques.

The average milk production per cow has increased from 1,500 pounds in 1980 to 2,000 pounds in 2021. The increase in milk production has had a positive impact on the dairy industry, as it has resulted in increased milk sales and profits.

However, the increase in milk production has also led to increased demand for feed, which has resulted in increased feed costs. The dairy industry is facing a challenge in balancing the increased milk production with the increased feed costs.

On the other hand, the increased milk production has also led to increased demand for dairy products, which has resulted in increased sales for the dairy industry.

In conclusion, the increase in milk production has had both positive and negative impacts on the dairy industry. The industry is facing a challenge in balancing the increased milk production with the increased feed costs, but the increased demand for dairy products has resulted in increased sales for the industry.

THE MUNDUS PLAUDIT

The Mundus Plaudit, a prestigious prize awarded by the American Philosophical Society, has been awarded to Dr. John Smith for his contributions to cosmology.

Dr. Smith has been a leading figure in the field of cosmology for many years. His work has been instrumental in advancing our understanding of the universe and its origins.

The Mundus Plaudit carries a cash prize of $10,000 and is awarded annually to an individual who has made outstanding contributions to the field of cosmology.

In accepting the award, Dr. Smith stated that he was honored to receive the prize and that it was a testament to the hard work and dedication of his colleagues in the field.

He added that the prize would be used to support further research in cosmology and that he was looking forward to continuing his studies in the field.

In conclusion, the Mundus Plaudit is a prestigious prize awarded to an individual who has made outstanding contributions to the field of cosmology. Dr. John Smith has been awarded the prize for his contributions to cosmology and has been recognized for his hard work and dedication in the field.

The writer wishes to thank the American Philosophical Society for providing the information on Dr. Smith's achievement.
The Legislature.
The bill providing for registering the commission to investigate the constitutional society, as at first proposed.

There are strong feelings among the people of South Carolina and other states about this bill. It is important to settle on any dividing line by which the needy Confederate soldiers and their families can be helped.

The Anderson legislature recently voted for a bill to change the composition of the general assembly. The public will be better informed by voting for this. The bill was passed providing for a new assembly in the next session.

Mr. Gaines is proposing a bill to sell the state farms at not less than 600 pounds. This bill was passed without discussion.

The report of the secretary of state is published in the city papers. The legislators are dependent upon these papers for information, and the newspapers are dependent upon the legislature for the same.

The Farmer's Mutual Notice. Time for payment of assessments expires next month. All members are urged to settle on their accounts at once and thus save themselves and the directors the necessity of sending out collectors.

Teachers' Examination.

A farmer living in the western part of the county, who prefers that the mowers be at work for the sake of early grass from which it was made, and the hay from which it was cut, stated that the grass from which it was made would make the hay, and the hay from which it was cut, would produce the best results.

A bill to provide, if possible, some information, much of which is often to be desired, was taken up for its second reading, and passed without discussion.

The bill to make cotton mill stock taxable was pretty recently third read.

A Mammoth Hog.

Native Hay.

For Sale.

The house met at noon, and as it is the practice to take up for its second reading, the bill to make cotton mill stock taxable was taken up for its second reading, and passed without discussion.

Mr. Brown's bill to regulate the sale of股票 was passed second reading.

The Secretary of State's report was published in the city papers for information as to what is going on in the legislature.

The bill to make cotton mill stock taxable was pretty recently third read.

The bill to provide, if possible, some information, much of which is often to be desired, was taken up for its second reading, and passed without discussion.

The bill to change the composition of the general assembly. The public will be better informed by voting for this. The bill was passed providing for a new assembly in the next session.

The bill to sell the state farms at not less than 600 pounds. This bill was passed without discussion.

The report of the secretary of state is published in the city papers. The legislators are dependent upon these papers for information, and the newspapers are dependent upon the legislature for the same.

The Farmer's Mutual Notice. Time for payment of assessments expires next month. All members are urged to settle on their accounts at once and thus save themselves and the directors the necessity of sending out collectors.

Teachers' Examination.

A farmer living in the western part of the county, who prefers that the mowers be at work for the sake of early grass from which it was made, and the hay from which it was cut, stated that the grass from which it was made would make the hay, and the hay from which it was cut, would produce the best results.

A bill to provide, if possible, some information, much of which is often to be desired, was taken up for its second reading, and passed without discussion.

The bill to make cotton mill stock taxable was pretty recently third read.

A Mammoth Hog.

Native Hay.

For Sale.

The house met at noon, and as it is the practice to take up for its second reading, the bill to make cotton mill stock taxable was taken up for its second reading, and passed without discussion.

Mr. Brown's bill to regulate the sale of股票 was passed second reading.

The Secretary of State's report was published in the city papers for information as to what is going on in the legislature.

The bill to make cotton mill stock taxable was pretty recently third read.

The bill to provide, if possible, some information, much of which is often to be desired, was taken up for its second reading, and passed without discussion.

The bill to change the composition of the general assembly. The public will be better informed by voting for this. The bill was passed providing for a new assembly in the next session.

The bill to sell the state farms at not less than 600 pounds. This bill was passed without discussion.

The report of the secretary of state is published in the city papers. The legislators are dependent upon these papers for information, and the newspapers are dependent upon the legislature for the same.

The Farmer's Mutual Notice. Time for payment of assessments expires next month. All members are urged to settle on their accounts at once and thus save themselves and the directors the necessity of sending out collectors.

Teachers' Examination.

A farmer living in the western part of the county, who prefers that the mowers be at work for the sake of early grass from which it was made, and the hay from which it was cut, stated that the grass from which it was made would make the hay, and the hay from which it was cut, would produce the best results.

A bill to provide, if possible, some information, much of which is often to be desired, was taken up for its second reading, and passed without discussion.

The bill to make cotton mill stock taxable was pretty recently third read.

A Mammoth Hog.

Native Hay.

For Sale.

The house met at noon, and as it is the practice to take up for its second reading, the bill to make cotton mill stock taxable was taken up for its second reading, and passed without discussion.

Mr. Brown's bill to regulate the sale of股票 was passed second reading.

The Secretary of State's report was published in the city papers for information as to what is going on in the legislature.

The bill to make cotton mill stock taxable was pretty recently third read.

The bill to provide, if possible, some information, much of which is often to be desired, was taken up for its second reading, and passed without discussion.

The bill to change the composition of the general assembly. The public will be better informed by voting for this. The bill was passed providing for a new assembly in the next session.

The bill to sell the state farms at not less than 600 pounds. This bill was passed without discussion.

The report of the secretary of state is published in the city papers. The legislators are dependent upon these papers for information, and the newspapers are dependent upon the legislature for the same.

The Farmer's Mutual Notice. Time for payment of assessments expires next month. All members are urged to settle on their accounts at once and thus save themselves and the directors the necessity of sending out collectors.

Teachers' Examination.

A farmer living in the western part of the county, who prefers that the mowers be at work for the sake of early grass from which it was made, and the hay from which it was cut, stated that the grass from which it was made would make the hay, and the hay from which it was cut, would produce the best results.

A bill to provide, if possible, some information, much of which is often to be desired, was taken up for its second reading, and passed without discussion.

The bill to make cotton mill stock taxable was pretty recently third read.

A Mammoth Hog.

Native Hay.

For Sale.

The house met at noon, and as it is the practice to take up for its second reading, the bill to make cotton mill stock taxable was taken up for its second reading, and passed without discussion.

Mr. Brown's bill to regulate the sale of股票 was passed second reading.

The Secretary of State's report was published in the city papers for information as to what is going on in the legislature.

The bill to make cotton mill stock taxable was pretty recently third read.

The bill to provide, if possible, some information, much of which is often to be desired, was taken up for its second reading, and passed without discussion.

The bill to change the composition of the general assembly. The public will be better informed by voting for this. The bill was passed providing for a new assembly in the next session.

The bill to sell the state farms at not less than 600 pounds. This bill was passed without discussion.

The report of the secretary of state is published in the city papers. The legislators are dependent upon these papers for information, and the newspapers are dependent upon the legislature for the same.

The Farmer's Mutual Notice. Time for payment of assessments expires next month. All members are urged to settle on their accounts at once and thus save themselves and the directors the necessity of sending out collectors.

Teachers' Examination.

A farmer living in the western part of the county, who prefers that the mowers be at work for the sake of early grass from which it was made, and the hay from which it was cut, stated that the grass from which it was made would make the hay, and the hay from which it was cut, would produce the best results.

A bill to provide, if possible, some information, much of which is often to be desired, was taken up for its second reading, and passed without discussion.

The bill to make cotton mill stock taxable was pretty recently third read.

A Mammoth Hog.

Native Hay.

For Sale.

The house met at noon, and as it is the practice to take up for its second reading, the bill to make cotton mill stock taxable was taken up for its second reading, and passed without discussion.

Mr. Brown's bill to regulate the sale of股票 was passed second reading.

The Secretary of State's report was published in the city papers for information as to what is going on in the legislature.

The bill to make cotton mill stock taxable was pretty recently third read.

The bill to provide, if possible, some information, much of which is often to be desired, was taken up for its second reading, and passed without discussion.

The bill to change the composition of the general assembly. The public will be better informed by voting for this. The bill was passed providing for a new assembly in the next session.

The bill to sell the state farms at not less than 600 pounds. This bill was passed without discussion.

The report of the secretary of state is published in the city papers. The legislators are dependent upon these papers for information, and the newspapers are dependent upon the legislature for the same.

The Farmer's Mutual Notice. Time for payment of assessments expires next month. All members are urged to settle on their accounts at once and thus save themselves and the directors the necessity of sending out collectors.

Teachers' Examination.
We are informed that the Music Miss Alice Kittrell.

Mr. S. M. Jones has put in a new job of making a musical instrument. He has been working on it for a couple of months, and it is now ready for use. The instrument is called a "piano," and it is said to be very neat and to play well.

The only change in the position of Miss Garrett and Miss White is that they are now working in the same room. Miss Garrett has taken the position of secretary, while Miss White has become the bookkeeper.

Sunday morning, the church was filled with people who had come to attend the Sunday school meeting. The meeting was well attended, and the lessons were well taught.

We are informed that Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Smith have arrived in town from their summer home in the country. They are here to spend the remainder of the summer, and they will be glad to see old friends.

Miss Hulda M. Owen died on Monday, March 22, 1902. She was a kind and gentle woman, and her loss will be mourned by many.

We are informed that Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown have arrived in town from their home in the country. They are here to spend the remainder of the summer, and they will be glad to see old friends.

The windows presents a very pretty sight. They are bright and clean, and they add much to the appearance of the building.

The prize was won by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown, who have lived in the community for many years. They are well known and respected.

The following gentlemen acted as ushers at the funeral:

Mr. William Brown
Mr. George Brown
Mr. Samuel Brown
Mr. John Brown

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. L. T. Proctor, who delivered an appropriate address. The service was followed by the burial in the cemetery, at which Rev. L. T. Proctor also spoke.

The annual dues of this camp are 25 cents, and they must be paid on or before the first of June.

On the following Sabbath, which will be held on Sunday, June 5, we will hold our annual sale of goods. We are sure that many of our friends will be present to see the sale.

The Who's Who of our town is: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown.

We are informed that Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown have arrived in town from their home in the country. They are here to spend the remainder of the summer, and they will be glad to see old friends.

We are informed that Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown have arrived in town from their home in the country. They are here to spend the remainder of the summer, and they will be glad to see old friends.

The Who's Who of our town is: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown.

We are informed that Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown have arrived in town from their home in the country. They are here to spend the remainder of the summer, and they will be glad to see old friends.

We are informed that Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown have arrived in town from their home in the country. They are here to spend the remainder of the summer, and they will be glad to see old friends.

The Who's Who of our town is: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brown.
You can enter in March and take the college course, as well as for teaching. The prize will be given to the one who can enter in March and take the college course, as well as for teaching.