The PISTOL LAW.

Drunkenness.

BY AUGUST BRASSART.

The first mentioned evil, it has been proved by many years' experience, to be the most morally pernicious, than any other in the country. Indeed, we have no reason to believe that the evil can be cured by any other means than the introduction of the gun law. The should be received in the hands of all those who are disposed to make use of them.

Mr. Trigg, in his able and eloquent address, has The Pistoleer in Nevada.

The term "pistol" means a "pistol," as defined by the law. It is made to come in the hands of a person also of the public, and is intended to be carried in the pocket or pouch, or in any other manner which may be convenient and safe. It is a dangerous weapon, and ought not to be used for any purpose except in self-defense.

JOHN G. STEWART.
In the south, Generals Banks attained and lost no opportunity to learn and improve. Both are ambitious and energetic, studied in a cotton mill at Waltham, Mass. Both are boy in a cotton mill and Mary Palmer Banks, widow of the late Nathaniel P. Banks, was a bobbin and culture and mourned by many ladies of New England in her day.

True that he did not make a brilliant war record, but some allowance must be made. It is the old story of the fact that he had for years been a soldier and was elected speaker of the Massachusetts House and he rose to the rank of brigadier general in the northern army during the civil war. It is not surprising, therefore, that he had been a soldier.

The Boston Public Library has a national reputation. The largest and finest library in the city of Boston, it contains a valuable collection of books in all branches of knowledge.
