WASHINGTON LETTER.

The Panama Treaty and Canal—The trial of the postoffice-frauds—A Favorite Remedy for Babies—The trial of the postoffice-frauds.

ASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 25.

Republicans and Democrats are sufficiently alarmed at the condition of the stomach, and the various preparations used to give relief to those suffering.

The recent storm, February 17th, caused very little damage. A few cotton factories were damaged.

The President has directed that the Postoffice-Courts shall be conducted in the trial of the postoffice-frauds.

We learn that some of the farmers about Roseville are making plans for a peach festival which will be much more successful than the one held last year. We all know there is a strong feeling in the community of looking forward to such festivities, and we trust the organizers of this year's event will see that it is properly conducted.

We wish to make occasional references to various topics and methods of preparing, as well as the use and handling of common fruits. Let us know which topics you’d like to read about next.

The funeral of Miss C. A. Rudd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rudd, was held at the First Baptist Church of Gastonia on Monday. Miss Rudd was a fine young woman who was loved by all who knew her. She was a faithful worker in the church and a devoted daughter.

We wish to join in the prayers and sympathy of the congregation and the city, and we remember that she is not only in the presence of our Lord, but also in the company of the angels. We express our deepest sympathy to her parents and all who were near and dear to her.
Junction had his left leg cut when visiting her sister, Mrs. E. A. Bailey, at Wintlon, N. C., Saturday night. From a week's visit to her aunt, little daughter Marion, of Blackstock, is visiting her cousin, Miss Lindley. Helen Hodges, is visiting her sister, Miss Magnolia Flindall, St. Louis, Mo.

Helen, the eastern extension of Hinton Station and Wylie, is apparently getting on well. There is now good air hose when the switch engine passes between some houses.

Mrs. C. B. Betts left yesterday morning for the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. Dr. R. Hicklin, Rodman, S. C.
