BRITAIN TO ENLIST MEN ONCE REJECTED

London, March 29.—Sir Hubert Parry, First Lord of the Admiralty, has failed to obtain the consent of the members of the House of Commons to a war of unlimited duration, and the war of which the Budget provides is limited to six months.

The proposal was put forward by Sir Hubert Parry, who explained that the Budget would provide for the maintenance of the Royal Navy and Household Forces, and the payment of the expenses of the Army, but that it was not intended to provide for the maintenance of the Royal Mail Packet Service.

The motion was carried by a majority of 278, but the vote was not taken until 11.30 a.m., and the House was not adjourned until 1.30 p.m.

The government of Great Britain is now in a difficult position, as theBudget provides for the maintenance of the Royal Navy and Household Forces, and the payment of the expenses of the Army, but that it is not intended to provide for the maintenance of the Royal Mail Packet Service.

It has been said that money rules the world, and while there may be some truth in this, there are other factors involved. Money can be a powerful force, capable of shaping events and influencing outcomes. However, it is not the only factor at play. There are other elements that contribute to the landscape of politics and government. One of these is the role of the people. The votes of the people, their preferences, and their demands, play a crucial role in shaping the direction of politics and government. It is the people who ultimately determine the outcome of elections and the policies that are implemented. Their voices are heard through the electoral process, and their wishes and desires are reflected in the decisions made by their representatives. Therefore, it is essential for the people to be engaged and informed. Voting is a fundamental right and a civic duty, and it is important for each individual to exercise this right in order to have a voice in the governance of their country. There are other ways to participate as well, such as by staying informed, engaging in discussions, and voicing opinions. The power of the people lies in their ability to unite, to come together, and to speak with one voice. It is through this collective power that change can be achieved, and the course of government can be steered in a direction that reflects the will of the people.
Mr. J. T. Perkins had the misfortune of breaking his hand when he called to the Leeds section Sunday to see Cora. H. Henry Gladden was accepted as a position in the Eureka Hardware Co.

Mr. G. L. Richardson, hammerless blue steel hammer, was addressing a meeting here. The S. M. Jones Co. was the speaker. A great deal of the material to be used in Chester is the same as was used in Calcutta.

Mr. Erskine Belts, of Columbia, was the guest speaker at the meeting. A great deal of the material to be used in Chester is the same as was used in Calcutta.
