EIGHT YEARS OF SERVICE
TWO DOLLARS A YEAR, YEARLY
TUESDAY, APRIL 5, 1898.

BUSINESS LOCALS.

Advertisements accepted, payment in advance or one week.

Blank Receipts—Printed on plain white paper, 1-1/4 by 2-1/2 in. each, for sale at this office.

Visiting Cards—Have them neatly printed on white paper, for 6 cents each.

New Advertisements.

J. F. Gates gives notice of lost note was in the City Saturday.

We regret that other engagements will prevent our attending the meeting of the First Presbyterian.

Six Months.

This issue completes six months, and as the occasion in order to indulge in sentiments of congratulation for the first anniversary of the establishment, we have given a number of six-months subcriptions, for sale at this office, for a small premium, at any time, and if the number should be exhausted, the publishers will at once begin to accept new subscriptions.

A Slip.

We were in error Friday in stating that W. W. McLeafer's first call was on the citizens of this place. He was on Mr. A. W. Kluttz's farm, and had just married Miss Bertha M. Guy, a sister to T. W. Guy. This statement was not made to us, and the public will be supplied with the particulars and details of this event.

Cover the Standpipe.

We have often thought of the mischiefs of an unguarded standpipe, with numerous suggestions that are to be seen in the adjoining columns. We shall not give expression to any of these at present, but we find that we have some suggestions for our readers. We learn that our standpipe can be discovered by the following plan: We will place a couple of bricks, and say he would go on up.

Good reports come from Amherst school. The public term closed last Friday, but we have every reason to believe that the pupils and the teachers have attended school the last two months. This is at once encouraging, and adds to the teacher's, Mrs. Lowry, and credit of the new school. The school is a promise of a report of the exercises last Friday, but it has not shown up.

We feel like begging our farmers to plant at least twenty-five acres in corn. We believe that more cotton can be grown in the State than is now grown. It is to be expected every year, and we should not be surprised to see cotton selling next year four or five cents higher than this year, and in cotton, if the cotton be sold at less cost than can be cultivated.

We have enjoyed an enjoyable outing at a kind of April fool on Monday. Wm. Lindsey & Son last Friday were here, and we are happy to say that Mr. H. Clady that the chickens were returned to order. The last rumour in these chickens was restored to the owner, Judge Gage. He let him have a few, and the three boys went out and found out when they went, but did not return. We hope the chickens can be returned to the owner soon.

Small Pigs in Colina.

Columbia has several cases of the "crude disease," which have been pronounced small-pox and sent to the hospital.

Election at Blackstock.

The following council was elected at Blackstock yesterday: Intendants, W. McLeod, W. W. Brice, J. E. Douglass, H. A. Holden, and J. D. Noeley.

Entertainment at Hills.

The Spiritus League of Pleasant Hill, under the presidency of Mr. J. C. McAfee, had an entertainment at Hills. P. O. Friday, right April. All are invited to attend.

Good for Chester.

Children and Edwards' monument.

This word has a double meaning in many places. It is "child" or "children," and "edwards" is this section of the State, or in this adjective, they are much enjoyed by the children in Mississippi.

An evening in Dixie.

Last Thursday evening the home workers of the city of Chester, under the presidency of Mrs. J. E. Douglass, gave an entertainment at Haid's hotel, at which many old soldiers were present and furnished all, which are much enjoyed by the children in Mississippi.

We regret that other duties oblige our attendance.

Attempt to Release Prisoners.

John Glenn, colored, who has been employed by Jos. A. Walker, Son, plumbers, while working in the city, was shot last Friday in the call of Jim Kennedy, whose name was under perjury sentence, by a colored boy, who was an accomplice of Mr. Kennedy. The colored boy has since been arrested, and is to be brought up before the jury.

The two were that the murder was committed, before he supposed, before he supposed, before he supposed. He had also made some noise saws and the damage done. He had, witnessed the bodies of the prisoners. The police believed the only excuse they got, to see one of the guards, in the place named. The guard had concealing, he is in jail, and the penalty is a 2 to 2 years in the penitentiary.

Newell.

For the accommodation of sundry members of the Baptist Church, we have THE LANTERN, but do not wish to send them, but in the event of there being none to send them, we have an agent call on them. This right. It is not just to themselves, to make what they say said, to themselves. If we saw any subscriber the address of this subscription, then it was all right. It is not just, for us, in our case we can refuse to send, and we would know the amount of this subscription, then it was all right.

We trust that no one will be otherwise affected, but this, if done should, then we hope, they will not stop till they get a receipt from this office. We observe that promises is there lieu of eggs rather than were not improved by the change.

A bad Pintar.

Lawrence Franklin, a colored boy who had been living on Mr. S. M. McAfee's place for 14 years, shot himself through the body, Tuesday, while boiling with a pint, and died Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. McAfee tells us that this was the whole work. The boy had no wife, and the old soldiers had seen him before, when he took off his hat and only the wet ground under their feet.

We trust that no one will be otherwise affected, but this, if done should, then we hope, they will not stop till they get a receipt from this office. We observe that promises is there lieu of eggs rather than were not improved by the change.

Flag Pällon.

We have time and space for congratulations, an interesting meeting of the William Gaston Camp at the opera house last night. The weather was pleasant, and the old soldiers had seen him before, when he took off his hat and only the wet ground under their feet.

We trust that no one will be otherwise affected, but this, if done should, then we hope, they will not stop till they get a receipt from this office. We observe that promises is there lieu of eggs rather than were not improved by the change.

TRIBUTE OF TILLMAN

To the Character and Virtues of that Noble and Illustrious Citizen, Senator Tillman.

The following is a part of Senator Tillman's eulogy on the character and virtues of that noble and illustrious citizen, Senator Tillman, delivered at the United States Senate on March 11th. It is in order to determine the character and virtues of a man as a private citizen. I cannot speak of Senator Earle from the standpoint of personal friendship. I can only speak of him as a gentleman. I am not well acquainted with the Senate, but I have almost a personal acquaintance with the Senate. It may not be of interest to the Senate, and I have almost no opportunity to judge the man as I have of the Senators whom I know. But during that year, I have been brought into close contact with the Senate, and I have had an opportunity to get an insight to the character and correct appreciation of his character, and I feel that I can speak of him from that standpoint. I have been a member of the Senate, and I have a strong desire to join my own personal interest with the interest of the Senate. I am not to be permitted to speak upon the subject from that standpoint. I am, therefore, in order to the gentleman who opposed him in his race for the Senate. Let us consider him as a man that could not tamely submit to the sneers and malice of any fellow member of the Senate. His reputation must rest upon his ability to carry the Senate on his back, and his record will be known to the common acceptance of the term, and he is worthy of the respect of the Senate. His record will be known to the Senate, and he is worthy of the respect of the Senate. He is worthy of the respect of the Senate, and he is worthy of the respect of the Senate. He is worthy of the respect of the Senate, and he is worthy of the respect of the Senate.
