Glenn, Lyles and other prominent dentsently has a conscientious desire to get the cumbersome court machinery out of the way of the school. Mr. George Hill of Carthage, who is well known throughout the state, is an opponent of the school and is still enthusiastic about it. He has been a leader in the movement since its inception, but now he is ready to see the project completed.

The school has been in existence for three years, and during this time it has been a source of great joy to the people of the state. It has provided a place of refuge for many children who would otherwise have been forced to remain at home. The school is well equipped with all the necessary facilities, and the teachers are carefully selected and well trained. The children are happy and content, and their progress is remarkable.

The school is supported by subscription, and the parents of the children are asked to contribute towards its maintenance. The subscription is reasonable, and the benefits to be derived from it are incalculable. The school is a great step forward in the development of the state, and it is to be hoped that it will continue to flourish and grow.

The parents of the children are reminded that the subscription is due on the first of the month, and that it is important that they make their contributions on time. The school cannot exist without the support of the community, and it is the duty of every parent to do his share in making it a success.

Bigger Yields

A given number of acres fertilized with Farmers' Bone produce a greater yield of cotton, than the same acreage with ordinary fertilizer. Farmers' Bone does more than that. It makes it possible to reduce the acreage and increase the yield. Try this to prove who uses Farmers' Bone.

Farmers' Bone

Made With Fish

has twenty-one years of fertility experience back of it. Over 13,000 carloads of Royster fertilizers were used on the crops of 1905. This volume of success is an argument in itself.

Thorough Preparation.

The first thing to do is to prepare the mind. It is impossible to do this 'without a study of the Word and praying for a spirit of self-denial. To be prepared does not mean to be in a hurry, but rather to be ready and waiting. The true minister will be ready at all times to deliver the Word, in the Spirit, and with the power of God.

His Home-Made Candies

When passing and giving visits to a person, one should be ready to deliver the Word, or have a Bible in hand, or be able to quote from it. The minister must be able to think for himself, and be able to give evidence that he has studied the Word, or be aware of its contents. He should be ready to answer questions, and to be able to prove the truth of his statements.

If you do not have the ability to think for yourself, you will not be able to answer questions, or to give evidence that you have studied the Word, or are aware of its contents. You will not be able to think for yourself, or be able to give evidence that you have studied the Word, or are aware of its contents.
