THE CITADEL.

Sixty-four Expelled and Given Two Hours to Pack Their Trunks.

Charleston, April 8.—The board of visitors of the South Carolina Military Academy has expelled sixty-four cadets in one day. The board, after having rejected an order of General Schofield, that the board consider the case of some cadets whose record showed them to be dangerous to the discipline of the academy, insisted on the application of severe discipline, and with the approval of the governor, proceeded to make a prompt and thorough investigation of the cases of several cadets. The investigation was made under the direction of General Schofield, and the action was taken in accordance with the orders of the board. The board has taken steps to enforce the decision of the academy, and the cadets have been given two hours to pack their trunks and leave the academy.

THE LANTERN.

Chester, S. C., Tuesday, April 12, 1858.

War as It Is.

On the 8th day of May, 1858, the editor of the Charleston News, in his biweekly, paid a visit to the South Carolina Military Academy, and made a careful examination of the institution. He found that the academy was in a state of perfect order, and that all the cadets were in excellent condition. The following is a brief statement of the conditions of the academy:

The academy is divided into two branches: the first, containing the cadets of the first and second classes, and the second, containing the cadets of the third and fourth classes. The academy is under the direction of the president, who acts as the boards of visitors, and is assisted by the provost marshal, who is the principal of the academy.

The academy is open to all cadets, who, upon passing the examination, are admitted to the academy, and are required to pay a certain sum for their tuition. The academy is supported by the state, and the donations of private individuals.

The academy is a public institution, and is open to all cadets, without regard to their color or condition. The academy is governed by the board of visitors, who are elected by the state legislature, and are appointed by the governor.

THE COUNCIL OF COUNCILS.

The council of the state of South Carolina, at a meeting held at Columbia, on the 8th day of May, 1858, determined to take no further action in the matter of the expulsion of the cadets of the South Carolina Military Academy. The council, in their resolution, stated that they were satisfied with the action of the academy, and that they would not interfere with the decision of the academy.

It is a great misfortune not to head your antagonist if you want to win. They are more likely to win, and want to catch you, don't stop the hole. In any case, and that is all that will make the word meaning to provide her with a hole.

Monternity by Compulsion.

A few of our contemporaries are tarred and feathered, and are saying that stipends in "impracticable, and incomprehensible. We agree with them. But that is not the end of the story. We are opposed to prohibition because we do not think it is the end of the story. We believe that the idea is a good man's or not, but that it should be preserved. If we pass and we catch to what they shall eat or drink. We are opposed to prohibition because we do not think it is the end of the story.

Berthold, and to the human race. Monternity by compulsion can never be permitted. —Greenville News.

Well, Mr. editor, the most amusing thing that has happened in our city this week was the spelling "best" of our school at the LeRoyville High School. The spelling was held at the school at six o'clock on the evening of August 1st. The LeRoyville pupils in the first class, consisting of 35 names and many voices, and the spelling was heard by a large number of people. The exercise was opened with an address of welcome by Master C. G. Harding, and was responded to by Master Sam Gray, one of the LeRoyville high school pupils, and by Mr. J. E. Mathews, who did not set "Daniel Webster," but the Cephas Chapel school carried off the entire honors.

The farmers are very busy in the crops and grain, but we are afraid of the cold weather we have, and it seems to us that we are going to have another winter of hard weather.

A little while after this news came, a pair of young men of the same age and the same height, and under the same name. That begins with, there was Rev. W. J. Prentiss and supposes that he must be a little person of this name. To begin with, there was Rev. W. J. Prentiss and suppose that he must be a little person of this name.
