WASHINGTON LETTER.

The Senate is now in session, as usual, with a large number of important measures pending. Among these is the bill for the reorganization of the government. There is a strong feeling in favor of this bill, but it is opposed by a party vote. The bill was introduced by a senator from Illinois.

If there is no amendment, the Senate will go into conference with the House of Representatives to settle the differences. The bill was introduced by a senator from Illinois.

The president and his staff are busy preparing for the inauguration of the new government. The president-elect is expected to arrive in Washington shortly.

BRADFORD ROGERS in Alaska. BOSTON, April 10. - Dr. J. M. Batterson, a native of Boston and a graduate of Harvard Medical School, was the subject of a testimonial dinner given in his honor at a hotel in Victoria, British Columbia, England, April 8.

I am engaged here by the English firm of Messrs. Knight & Co., importers to the fur trade. While here I have been a professor of agriculture in the University of Birmington for the past three years. I am also now working on a book on agriculture which I hope to have published next year. I have recently been appointed to the staff of the University of Birmington as an honorary professor.
