GOOD ROAD P.R.T. OF PREPAREDNESS

Several States Urged Upon Congress to Improve Roads

That military men possessed for determining the present state of the industries, preparatory to their appropriation. From the Department of the Army, information was desired of their conditions and possibilities in the same region. The report was issued by General Pershing, and the President, in his annual message, referred to the question. The Department of the Navy was also requested to submit a report on the subject.

The statement from the Army, in its report, included a discussion of the condition of the roads in the northwestern part of the country, where the greatest needs are expected. It was pointed out that the roads in this region are in a very poor state, and that much money is required to improve them.

The Navy report, on the other hand, dealt with the condition of the roads in the southeast region of the country, where the greatest needs are expected. It was pointed out that the roads in this region are in a very poor state, and that much money is required to improve them.

The statements from the Army and the Navy were in agreement on the fact that much money is required to improve the roads in these regions.

German Offensives in Three Sections

Claim important victory near Berat with another Bulgarian army, according to German official statement, by advancing against the Serbs through the valley of the Vardar. The news was received with great excitement. It was definitely set that the Russians have already taken the Bulgar rail line, giving a wedge between the main Bulgarian army and the Anglo-French forces situated at Nish. Considering the railway, which, branching off at Bitola, runs up the western side of Servia, but it is comparatively weak. Against the Servians through the valley of the Styr, south of the Tripet marshes, it was feared that the Bulgarians have cut the line to the harbor.

New successes are being claimed by the Allies, who are preventing the Russians from cutting the line, and driving a wedge between the main Servian army and the Anglo-French forces situated at Nish. The Italian advance in Tyrol and the Austrian advance on the southwestern front are also reported successful, thus doing much damage to the Junction at Uskup.

Deepening the Farm For Bigger Crops

How Up to Date Farmers Are Easily and Economically Realizing on Land thriftly Impossible of Cultivation.

The Third Dimension of the Farm an Important Factor to Greater Crops and Bigger Dividends.

About every acre of land in the United States is being used to its maximum advantage. Planting corn, 15 bushels an acre, is not so productive as that on the same land planted in clover or a permanent pasture. Is it any wonder, then, that farmers are not content with what was once considered a bumper crop?

The ancient Egyptians were noted for their crop culture. In fact, they grew corn in a manner similar to that in which we grow corn today. They sowed their seeds in the river, which actually cast the seed in the river. At this time, they "sowed their seeds in the Straightening Streams," which actually meant that they were using irrigation techniques, which is what we call irrigation today.

Getting the Dollar From Under the Stump

The ancient Egyptians were noted as being highly skilled in irrigation techniques, which is what we call irrigation today. They knew that water was essential for crop growth and that the right amount of water at the right time would result in a bumper crop. They also knew that irrigation could be used to improve soil quality and to control pests and diseases.
