FARMERS HOPE IN WAREHOUSES TO STORE CROPS

WASHINGTON, April 17--Robert F. Cushman, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said yesterday that the Senate would pass the Federal Warehouse Bill today and would vote on the House-passed Conservation Bill next week. The Senate action was taken by a majority of one.\n
Mr. Cushman said that the Senate had already approved the Warehouse Bill and that it was now ready to be sent to the House of Representatives. He added that the Committee would work on the Conservation Bill until it was ready for consideration by the full Senate.\n
The Warehouse Bill was introduced by Senator David P. Broderick of New York, and its provisions include the establishment of a national system of warehouses for the storage of agricultural products. It also provides for the collection of taxes on the storage of non-perishable products, such as grain, flour, and oil, and for the use of the proceeds to finance the construction and operation of these warehouses.\n
The Conservation Bill was introduced by Senator Samuel M. McCall of California, and its provisions include the establishment of a national system for the prevention and control of erosion, and for the promotion of soil conservation. It also provides for the collection of taxes on the use of agricultural land, and for the use of the proceeds to finance the implementation of these measures.\n
Mr. Cushman said that the Senate would work on the Conservation Bill until it was ready for consideration by the full Senate, and that he expected it to be passed by the end of the week. He added that the Committee would work on the Warehouse Bill until it was ready for consideration by the full Senate. He said that he expected it to be passed by the end of the week.\n

The White Hussars as a Vocal Choir—A Chautauqua Week Attraction

Photograph by Frank Moore, Cleveland.

In addition to their program as a band, the White Hussars, who are coming here Chautauqua week, also appear as a vocal choir. The delite programs are provided with the stirring anthems of young soldiers, artiste collaboration and popular songs. The programs are of the highest order and under the guidance of the master of ceremonies, none can fail to be charmed by the  singing trio.

This company was organized some years ago by Ralph Glase, whose name as a vocalist of national eminence is too well known to need further mention here.

The programs, written by the author of the White Hussars in New York, one of the glee companies said, "The Hussars are incomparably great, packing away notes that play well and stick well and will please everyone anywhere."

The enthusiasm of the audience is the white Hussars, "The way the White Hussars come just as 'lone singers were never to be heard.' From Cleveland: "They really carried off the house. Voices were used, the music was—" in all respects the all the greater." From Cincinnati: "If you think you have heard good music, hear the Hussars. They not only play good music, but sing as well. Your..."

MR. DUKE NOT BACKING NEW COUNTY PROJECT

ONE MORE CARNABY EXPLODED

It has been persistently rumored that Mr. Duke, the big investor in the proposed new county project, is withdrawing his financial support. The report is said to have been circulating in the Eastern Section of the state for some time. Mr. Duke, it is alleged, had built a mill and other industrial establishments in Fairfield County, but this was now abandoned. It is further alleged that Mr. Duke has not paid the taxes on his property in Fairfield County for some time and that the town is now in the process of foreclosing his mortgages.

In one of the more interesting developments of the past week, Mr. Duke has announced that he will not back the new county project. This is in line with the reports that he was withdrawing his financial support. It is also in line with the reports that the proposed new county would be an economic disaster.

THE AIR IS COOLING.

The air is cooling in our city, and the people are beginning to think about the future. There are many who are planning to leave for the country and enjoy the cooler weather.

THE STILL FOR US.

Mr. Duke has absolute nothing to do with the new county project. This is clear from the reports that he has not paid the taxes on his property in Fairfield County for some time and that the town is now in the process of foreclosing his mortgages.

LOCAL and PERSONAL

There will be a meeting of the warehousemen of the state system in Columbia, Tuesday, May 9th.

Mr. W. G. Prince, who has been on professional business, has returned.

The Medicine Establishment of Miss Lottie Belcher will be moved May 3rd to West Main street, next door to A. W. McCracken's store and the National Exchange Bank. A casual invitation is extended to all to pay in a visit.

Mrs. and Miss Y. C. Lucas, of Columbia, are in Chester. The many friends of Mrs. Lucas will regret to learn that she is unwell and came to Chester to enter the Hospital for treatment.

The M. G. B. Company returned yesterday from Charleston, S. C.

A special meeting of the Board of Education, East Chester, was called to consider the attitude of the school regarding the Zahl, and to elect a Superintendent.

There was a very heavy frost last night and this morning, with frost expected for the near future.

The American Nigger is a very fine breed of horse, but it is not the best for general purposes.

The Chester Hardware Company has recently received a large shipment of goods, which will materially assist in filling out their stock of hardware.

The town is doing business as usual, and the business seems to be good.

Mr. Davis died at 5 o'clock this morning at his residence on Main Street, where he had been a lifelong resident. He was 77 years old at the time of his death, which came as a result of being kicked by a horse on Broad Street, Saturday. The horse, which was a runaway, had been a threat to the neighborhood for some time, and local officials had been trying to catch it for several days. The police were unable to catch the horse, and it had managed to escape from the corral and roam the streets. The horse was finally caught by a team of police officers, but the attempt to control it proved to be too difficult, and it was decided to send it to the slaughterhouse.

The president, who had been schedule to leave for a campaign rally in the afternoon, canceled his plans and returned to the White House to attend to the situation. He expressed his condolences to the Davis family and promised to do everything possible to ensure that the horse was not allowed to roam the streets again.

The Democratic National Committee and the local Democratic Club have both expressed their condolences on the death of Mr. Davis. The local club plans to hold a special meeting to discuss the situation and come up with a plan to prevent similar incidents from occurring in the future.

The president's statement is a reflection of the presidential election's importance, as both the Republicans and the Democrats are trying to gain the support of the voters in the crucial swing states. The president's statement also highlights the ongoing political tension in the country, as both parties are trying to gain an edge in the upcoming election.
DRESSIVE FARMER

Will carry every week for the next six months notable articles by Prof. W. F. Massey, "the Grand Old Man of Southern Agriculture" on
"$500 More a Year for the Southern Farmer: How to Get It"

Here are some of the subjects Prof. Massey will discuss. Each article telling how do that job:

1. We Must Improve Our Livestock on the Farm.
2. We Must Make Our Own Lamb Jets.
3. We Must Learn to Use More Power and Mechanics.
4. We Must Learn to Use More Animals and Machinery.
5. We Must Use More Ease and Feeder.
6. We Must Have the One and Only Correct System of Farming.
7. We Must Learn the Right Way of Farming.
8. We Must Use More Hay and Grain to Sell.
9. We Must Put the Southern States in

And Prof. Massey's page is only one of fifty features that have made The Progressive Farmer famous as "The Farm Paper with the Punch.

The importance of raising more livestock will be discussed in a later series of articles by Dr. Tait Butler.
