4-29-1898

The Lantern, Chester S.C.- April 29, 1898

J T. Bigham

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/chesterlantern1898

Part of the Journalism Studies Commons, and the Social History Commons

Recommended Citation

Bigham, J T., "The Lantern, Chester S.C.- April 29, 1898" (1898). The Chester Lantern 1898. 34.
https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/chesterlantern1898/34

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the The Chester Lantern at Digital Commons @ Winthrop University. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Chester Lantern 1898 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Winthrop University. For more information, please contact bamed@winthrop.edu.
The Governor of South Carolina, Columbia, S. C.

The following frpm your State, under the call of the President, April 25, 1898, will be read by the military men in the Military Hospital at Charleston, S. C.

The Governor of South Carolina, W. H. Ellerbe, Gov.

Washington, Apr. 25, 1898.

The Governor of South Carolina,

The following special to the Charleston "State"... will be ours.

The prohibitionists have done... victory than from conquering Spain.

Dear Sir: I have the honor to submit a report on the prohibition of South Carolina by the 30th day of April, 1898, and the Governor has received... the State should have no voice in electing a presidential candidate and supporting democratic primary elections.

The prohibitionists have done... victory than from conquering Spain.

The prohibitionists have done... victory than from conquering Spain.
Temperance Men Fighting Treasonous Magistrates.

The Abbeville Press calls upon the Lafayette to give its information on question of prohibition as it is the duty of a good citizen to be acquainted with any great plan that is being prepared. It is declared that a great temptation to make the feet of so many men into devious paths no longer exists. The Press further states that many of our young men, who are acting for prohibition, and who have always been in favor of the temperance question, believe that the bill for the temperance movement is very good. It is asserted that the committee of the temperance men will not be found to have any selfish or personal interest in the matter, and that they are always ready and willing to give assistance to any of the public.
Wm. Lindsay, & Sons.

Tobacco! Molasses!

Everything Cheap at

Wm. Lindsay & Sons.

No wonder... no problem.

Wm. Lindsay & Sons.

WEEDER AND CULTIVATOR, $10.00.

Works 7'-12' Feet, Weight 80 Pounds.

The Weeder is irresistible for all crops, nothing growing on the farm in any section of the country can be used with great profit. Used at the right time, and in the right place, the Weeder profited the farmer almost entirely with the hardest and most expensive part of cultivation, via, hoeing.

JOSEPH A. WALKER.

Tobacco and Shrimp.

SHREVEPORT, LOUISIANA. April 30—Jabez H. Lytchett, of this city, has just arrived from New Orleans on the Northern Pacific. He writes that the wharf at New Orleans is entirely cleared out, and that there is considerable movement of goods from the South, while the Northern goods are not removed to any considerable extent. The cotton is very active, and the business is increasing daily. The market is steady, and the prices are firm. The future prospects are favorable, and the trade is expecting a good season.

JOSEPH A. WALKER.

Shocking Happenings.

Planting has been progressing rapidly. The farmers around here are busy planting their crops, and the recent rains have been very helpful. The neighborhood is in good condition with the exception of a few cases. Rev. J. B. W. J. Hope, of this place, has been in the neighborhood for some days, but is improving slowly. The weather is favorable, and the crops are looking well. Her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Cowley, of Locust, spent a part of the week at her mother's.

There is still some talk about the war. We are still on the lookout for developments. We are making arrangements for the arrival of three American ships. We have heard of a number of ships that have been sighted in the vicinity of the Spanish ships can easily prevent it. Washington April 23—Congress will sit continuously during the summer.

January 22—The San Juan Point fortification its to the movement of the Spanish fleet will make a move in the matter of affording additional protection to the Atlantic States. As to the prospect of additional protection to the American coast, there is no indication of the Spanish fleet's being able to stand against the American vessels. The Spanish fleet will be free to act as they wish, without fear of attack. Admiral Dewey, on the other hand, will not be free to act as he wishes, without fear of attack. The Spanish fleet is at the Cape Verde Islands.

January 23—The San Juan Point fortification its to the movement of the Spanish fleet will make a move in the matter of affording additional protection to the Atlantic States. As to the prospect of additional protection to the American coast, there is no indication of the Spanish fleet's being able to stand against the American vessels. The Spanish fleet will be free to act as they wish, without fear of attack. Admiral Dewey, on the other hand, will not be free to act as he wishes, without fear of attack. The Spanish fleet is at the Cape Verde Islands.

January 24—The San Juan Point fortification its to the movement of the Spanish fleet will make a move in the matter of affording additional protection to the Atlantic States. As to the prospect of additional protection to the American coast, there is no indication of the Spanish fleet's being able to stand against the American vessels. The Spanish fleet will be free to act as they wish, without fear of attack. Admiral Dewey, on the other hand, will not be free to act as he wishes, without fear of attack. The Spanish fleet is at the Cape Verde Islands.

January 25—The San Juan Point fortification its to the movement of the Spanish fleet will make a move in the matter of affording additional protection to the Atlantic States. As to the prospect of additional protection to the American coast, there is no indication of the Spanish fleet's being able to stand against the American vessels. The Spanish fleet will be free to act as they wish, without fear of attack. Admiral Dewey, on the other hand, will not be free to act as he wishes, without fear of attack. The Spanish fleet is at the Cape Verde Islands.

January 26—The San Juan Point fortification its to the movement of the Spanish fleet will make a move in the matter of affording additional protection to the Atlantic States. As to the prospect of additional protection to the American coast, there is no indication of the Spanish fleet's being able to stand against the American vessels. The Spanish fleet will be free to act as they wish, without fear of attack. Admiral Dewey, on the other hand, will not be free to act as he wishes, without fear of attack. The Spanish fleet is at the Cape Verde Islands.

January 27—The San Juan Point fortification its to the movement of the Spanish fleet will make a move in the matter of affording additional protection to the Atlantic States. As to the prospect of additional protection to the American coast, there is no indication of the Spanish fleet's being able to stand against the American vessels. The Spanish fleet will be free to act as they wish, without fear of attack. Admiral Dewey, on the other hand, will not be free to act as he wishes, without fear of attack. The Spanish fleet is at the Cape Verde Islands.

January 28—The San Juan Point fortification its to the movement of the Spanish fleet will make a move in the matter of affording additional protection to the Atlantic States. As to the prospect of additional protection to the American coast, there is no indication of the Spanish fleet's being able to stand against the American vessels. The Spanish fleet will be free to act as they wish, without fear of attack. Admiral Dewey, on the other hand, will not be free to act as he wishes, without fear of attack. The Spanish fleet is at the Cape Verde Islands.

January 29—The San Juan Point fortification its to the movement of the Spanish fleet will make a move in the matter of affording additional protection to the Atlantic States. As to the prospect of additional protection to the American coast, there is no indication of the Spanish fleet's being able to stand against the American vessels. The Spanish fleet will be free to act as they wish, without fear of attack. Admiral Dewey, on the other hand, will not be free to act as he wishes, without fear of attack. The Spanish fleet is at the Cape Verde Islands.

January 30—The San Juan Point fortification its to the movement of the Spanish fleet will make a move in the matter of affording additional protection to the Atlantic States. As to the prospect of additional protection to the American coast, there is no indication of the Spanish fleet's being able to stand against the American vessels. The Spanish fleet will be free to act as they wish, without fear of attack. Admiral Dewey, on the other hand, will not be free to act as he wishes, without fear of attack. The Spanish fleet is at the Cape Verde Islands.

January 31—The San Juan Point fortification its to the movement of the Spanish fleet will make a move in the matter of affording additional protection to the Atlantic States. As to the prospect of additional protection to the American coast, there is no indication of the Spanish fleet's being able to stand against the American vessels. The Spanish fleet will be free to act as they wish, without fear of attack. Admiral Dewey, on the other hand, will not be free to act as he wishes, without fear of attack. The Spanish fleet is at the Cape Verde Islands.
OLD TIMERS.

Stories of the intelligence displayed by the horses were many and thrilling. One of the stories is that of the Dartmouth engine. "They are as intelligent as men," one story ran, "and they can make as good a fight as any man."

The horses were the pride of the town, and the residents took great pride in them. They were used for a variety of tasks, from pulling plows to running errands. The horses were also trained to perform various tricks, such as riding on their hind legs or playing musical instruments.

One story that stood out was the tale of a horse named "Spike," who was known for his ability to speak. "Spike" could be heard saying "Good morning" and "Good afternoon" to the people he saw on his morning and afternoon rounds. He was so well-known that people would often stop to talk to him, and he would respond in his own unique way.

Another story was that of a horse named "Black Jack," who was said to have the ability to count. When a group of children would gather around him, he would count the number of them and then perform a special trick for the children.

These stories were not just entertaining, but they also served to highlight the special relationship between humans and horses. The horses were not just tools, but they were also companions, and the people of the town were grateful for their many contributions.