WHERE TO STOP THE TABLE RIDDLE

The place to stop the table riddle is marked only by the sound of the table riddle itself, not by any visible evidence. This is the point where the riddle ceases to be a mere game and becomes a symbol of the deeper meaning of life.

The table riddle is a test of one's ability to solve problems. It is a metaphor for the way in which we must think about our lives and our actions. The riddle is not about finding the answer to a question, but rather about understanding the nature of the problem itself.

At this point, the table riddle becomes a guide to understanding the deeper meaning of life. It shows us that there is more to life than just solving problems, that we must also consider the bigger picture.

In conclusion, the table riddle is a powerful reminder of the importance of thinking deeply about our lives and our actions. It is a guide to understanding the deeper meaning of life and to living a more fulfilling life.

SPRAY YOUR TREES.

During the past winter quite a number of farmers sprayed their fruit trees with Lomax Sulphur wash, with the San Jose Scale. Unless this has already been done it is now too late to apply this spray.

The next spray that should be used is Arsenate of lead. This material is put up in two forms, powdered and paste. When paste is used it should be used to the extent of five pounds to the acre. A few gallons of water should be added. In either case it is advisable to shake 5 or 6 pounds of powder into a white bucket and stir it in 16 gallons of water. Always use a syphon to apply this spray, and use it at the right time, just after the petals have fallen from the tree. The second spray should be applied two weeks after the first, and the third spray should be applied two weeks after the second.

When the powdered form is used only half this amount or 1 pound to 50 gallons of water should be used. In either case it is advisable to shake 5 or 6 pounds of powder into a white bucket and stir it in 16 gallons of water. Always use a syphon to apply this spray, and use it at the right time, just after the petals have fallen from the tree. The second spray should be applied two weeks after the first, and the third spray should be applied two weeks after the second.
