Report of the Government Experiment Station to the Executive.

Passed Assistant Surgeon J. K. Jackson, M. D., who was detailed to examine the sanitary condition of the district, has made a report of his supervision to the Executive, which has been published in its present form.

We have heard the facts in consultation, I believe, the following conclusions are justified:

1. That the present condition of the dairy is such that it is necessary to adopt some remedial measures.

2. That the present condition of the water supply is such that it is necessary to adopt some remedial measures.

In conclusion, I believe the following recommendations should be adopted:

1. That the present condition of the dairy be improved by:
   a. Improving the quality of the milk produced.
   b. Improving the sanitation of the dairy buildings.

2. That the present condition of the water supply be improved by:
   a. Constructing a new well.
   b. Constructing a new water treatment facility.

I believe these recommendations will be effective in improving the sanitary condition of the district.

Items From Wine.

In order that a correspondent may do his duty it is necessary that he have the following items:

1. A glass of wine.
2. A bottle of wine.
3. A cork.
4. A bottle opener.

Upon his return from school enrolled in the Georgia Light Infantry as a private, he served in the various battles of the war, and was finally discharged in 1865. Since then he has practiced law in South Carolina for high

One artesian well would in all probability; second, that the rains of April and May have washed into the spring, and third, that the rains of April and May have hidden away underground water from the dairy and thereby caused the present condition of the dairy.

There are complexities in the law of real estate, and the present condition of the dairy is such that it is necessary to adopt some remedial measures.

The ventilation, however, of the dairy and the subsoil saturated with water, and the surrounding country, makes it necessary to adopt some remedial measures.

The governor has never made a more fitting appointment. Joseph K. Alston was born on November 6, 1831, in Fairfield County, S. C., near Montgomery. He was the son of Joseph Kirkland Alston and Susannah Cook, daughter of Gen. and Mrs. J. D. Cook, of Gaston County, S. C. He is the grandson of Mrs. J. D. Cook, of Gaston County, S. C. He is the great-grandson of Mrs. J. D. Cook, of Gaston County, S. C. He is the great-great-grandson of Mrs. J. D. Cook, of Gaston County, S. C.

On November 6, 1860, in Fairfield County, S. C., he was married to Miss Sarah Bordwell, of Chester, S. C., by Rev. J. D. Cook, of Gaston County, S. C. He was the son of Rev. J. D. With regard to the heating and lighting of dwellings as a whole, we are amply sufficient.

The sensation, however, of the reformers is believed to be inadequate. Complete recommendations are given.

If these recommendations are followed, we can have garbage disposal, and ventilation carried out, it is believed that we can have a healthful and sanitary condition.

If the dairy is to be supplied with milk, provided two things are done; first, control of five water-supplies to the hospital and residences on the one side of the lake, and to be carried from the residences in the vicinity of the lake, and second, to be extended from the residences to the hospital and residences on the other side of the lake, and to be carried to the hotel and residences on the one side of the lake, and to be carried to the hotel and residences on the other side of the lake.

THE WARM COLLECT.

Benedict-Campion of the Episcopalian church had the following to say to the Clergy of the Diocese:

"I have, added two clauses to the prayer-book, that every warm-collect for the day should be said if the weather is fair, and the sun is shining."
Congressman Fleet informs the Lancaster Ledger that he voted against the Cuban resolutions because he believed it was "unwise and mischievous." He was in favor of both "due respect for the Cuban people and their rights." He did not like the idea of "nationalism" or "internationalism." For him, "personal dignity and its protective stature" made a compelling case for "personal dignification and its protective stature." The Greenville News, beginning yesterday, will issue an afternoon extra, which will be sold at three cents, "so long as the news from the South is not complete." It is a consequence of the demand for the extra that the publication will be published without loss."}

"As I see no value from Oxford in making a crew, I will try to give you a few items."

"We have a postoffice and three houses, and we are informed that it makes very little difference from the North." We do not have as much visiting as some of your correspondent."

"Some fighting is reported in Cuba. Small captures have been made, and very much in their praise for their kindness and consideration to their persons." Farmers are pretty well up with their work. Cotton is coming up nicely in some forms and corn is being thinned. The fruit crop is prominent.

"The War."

There is but little definite news from the progress of the war. Everything seems to be waiting so that we may come up with the time to do some important business."

"What are you crying for?" and "we can almost see a brother who does not laugh; "You don't cry half as bad as I do."

At a rough estimate there are 35,000 persons addressed as "Cuban." In this State they have been addressed for the time." It is thrilling to think of the many brave boys who have left their homes and their families to protect our liberties."

That in all right; masters are the stuff that colonists are made of, and even the plantation boys. They are really kind in the colonists who have already got the duty put on them to retire and to have the right of a chance."

"The following from the Abbeville Press and Banner is referred to the editor of this paper as well as to those who are in charge of it at himself: The Press and Banner withdraws these observations and authorizes the editor to say this in all his columns:

"The state of Charleston is strong and all the news is good." We consider this to be a statement that paper published either falsely or not at all in the state of Charleston."

"If you don't have the courage to do your duty, you don't know what it means," he said."

"Mr. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, was suddenly taken ill, cold caught, which settled in his lungs and never left him. He was treated by his family physician, but grew worse and was pronounced a very serious case of consumption and that the disease was incurable. The surgeon, Dr. Kingsley, was called to the case in the hope that he might be able to do something for Mr. Curtin."

"We are aware of the immense advance on flour, animal, and corn. Fortunately for us and our customers before the rise about, one dozen per cent. was thrown in the market for the next two weeks."

We are authorized to announce that the following are the popular things for the people at this time:

"Summer goods take the place of winter. Up come the carpets, down the rugs."

"The leaves are fully grown. We may, expect what we call hot weather."

"Works of nature and hills nothing but human nature to copy from the works of nature."
Treating the Gning.

Chickens, turkeys, guineas, rice, biscuits, jelly-cake, pound-cake and other good things were furnished in abundance. Some of the convicts did not eat any dinner, drinking sweetened water, waiting for supper time. Several good citizens came down and took supper with us besides those named above.
