VAULT EXPLODES IN U.S. STATES UNIFORMED IN FRANCE. WILL BE MEXICAN CORPS—WILL PRESS BRITISH FORCE UNTIL OUT.

By this arrangement a group of more than 2,000 doctors, who have left their civilian practice to join the colors, will have actual war experience to put the finishing touch on their training for the care of the United States soldier in the field. All of which seems to be only another way of saying that at last America is really into a war in which the administration and the country will no longer be in the background.

War was declared last month, but it was a year ago last month that the medical profession of the country began to prepare for it. And the results, so far as they can be indicated by figures, are that 9,000 officers of the United States are enrolled for military service, and 8,000 of them are have received their commission as surgeons and medical officers in the army. This means, figuring on the basis of seven medical men to every thousand of troops, that with 21,000 physicians and surgeons enrolled the Country is medically prepared for an army of 3,000,000 men. The 8,000 already commissioned are efficient for an army of something more than a million.

Leaflet issued by the British Government to the troops in France, showing that the German government was warning the Allies of an attack.

A New York committee of three appointed yesterday to investigate trade and shipping was composed of Dr. Pratt of the Departments of foreign and domestic relations, Miss Percival of the British mission, and W. J. Carley of the Consular Division of the State Department.

The question of feeding the neutrals without supplying Germany at the same time will receive the most serious consideration, and it will be the duty of this committee to study the trade of these neutrals and report to the American and British Governments on the amount of imports that can be allowed to reach them to exactly fill their requirements without leaving a surplus which can be sold to Germany.

One of the problems of joint effort between the United States and Canada, which has been under discussion between Secretary Redfield and Sir George Foster, acting Premier of Canada, is now well on the way toward solution. This was raised by the Canadian demand for tin cans in which to ship dispatches to the Canadian expeditionary force, made urgent by the general shortage of vessels throughout the continent. Through cooperative action by American tin smelters and tin can manufacturers and merchants, the difficulty is now being met.

AMERICAN INVENTED GAS THE ALLIES USE.

Baltimore May 5.—It is now here reported that the tear gas used by the Allies is the invention of Dr. Robert W. Wood, professor of experimental physics at Johns Hopkins University. Professor Wood sent the formula for it to a friend, Professor Cotton, in Paris, who turned it over to the French War Department. Dr. Wood is a member of the Naval Consulting Board.

SHOOTING IN BEAUFORT.

Beaufort, May 5.—Bob Pord, a negro, was shot in here yesterday morning about 8:30 by Claude M. Aman, a well-known attorney, of this place. It is not yet known whether the man who was shot five times, will recover or not. It is said that the provocation of Mr. Aman was objectionable language addressed earlier in the morning to Mr. Aman's wife.

Abbeville Park School

The President's Son in Residence

For the convenience of the public, President Wilson has been in residence in Abbeville Park School, near the White House, for the past few days.

The President's son, who is now a student at the school, was the source of much excitement yesterday morning, when it was announced that he would be in residence for the remainder of the week.

President Wilson himself was seen near the school several times during the day, and was greeted with applause by the students.

The school is located near the White House, and is a favorite place for the President and his family.

Attention is called to the fact that the school is now in session, and that the President's son is a student there.

The President's arrival was announced in a public address by Mr. Wilson, who said:

"I am glad to be here, and to have been able to make this visit to Abbeville Park School. I have always been a great admirer of this school, and I am proud to be associated with it in this way.

"I hope that the students will make the most of this opportunity, and that they will work hard and do their best. I know that they will do so, and that they will make the school proud of them."

The President then left the school, and was driven back to the White House, where he was greeted by a large crowd of people.

The school is one of the finest in the country, and is well known for its excellent teaching and its fine traditions.

The President's son is a student at the school, and is doing well.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

The greatly increased cost of everything connected with the manufacture of ice forces us, in self-defense, to increase the price of our product; but we are making the increase as light as possible, and the moment our expenses get back to the former level will restore the old prices. Just to give you some idea of what we are up against in this respect we wish to cite a few figures; and also beg to say that during the month of April we made a careful test and found that with present prices of supplies we simply could not break even; prices on commodities and products of all kinds, as you know, are far above what they were a few months ago, and we feel that you will agree with us that the increase which we are putting on is entirely reasonable. Look at what we were paying a year ago for supplies and what we are paying to-day.
