PRESBYTERIAN CREED.

The Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, in accordance with its constitution, has adopted the following creed as the statement of the beliefs of its members and as the symbol of its unity in the faith.

I believe in one God, the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth, and of all that is in the heaven and in the earth.

And in Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord; who was conceived by the Holy Ghost, born of the virgin Mary; suffered under Pontius Pilate; was crucified, dead, and buried; the third day he rose again from the dead; was升天" and is at the right hand of God the Father Almighty; from thence he shall come tojudgement.

And in the Holy Spirit, the Lord and Giver of life; who spake by the prophets; and by water and the Spirit, gives forth life unto everlasting life. Amen.

OIL IN TEXAS.

A great amount of damage was done last week as a result of a tornado that hit the northwestern part of the state. The tornado, which was accompanied by heavy rain and hail, caused considerable damage to property and crops.

The tornado caused the destruction of many buildings, including homes and businesses. The storm was so severe that it caused the death of several people and injuries to many others.

The destruction of property was widespread, with damages estimated at more than $100,000. The tornado was so intense that it caused the destruction of many homes, including those in the town of Lawrenceville.

Last week's tornado is just one of the many natural disasters that have affected the state of Texas in recent years. Other natural disasters, such as hurricanes and floods, have also caused significant damage to the state.

The state of Texas is known for its warm climate and its beautiful landscape, but it is also known for its frequent natural disasters. The state is located in a region that is prone to hurricanes, floods, and tornadoes, and it is important for residents to be prepared for these events.

The state government has implemented a number of measures to help residents prepare for natural disasters, including the development of emergency plans and the provision of disaster relief aid.

The state of Texas is home to some of the most beautiful natural landscapes in the country, but it is also home to some of the most powerful natural forces. Residents of the state are urged to remain vigilant and to be prepared for any natural disasters that may occur.
The following article appeared in the Petersburg Press August 7, 1913.

It refers to a work that is being heeded and promoted by the girls were they were playing a game of "in the air". This is a game where the players assume the roles of animals and try to guess what the animal they are playing is doing. There are many different variations of the game, but the basic concept is that players take turns asking questions about the animal, and the others must answer with yes or no answers. The idea is to guess the animal correctly before the other players do. This game is often played by younger children as it is easy to understand and fun to play. It is also a great way to practice listening and follow directions.

The bankrupt journay said:

"I have been fighting this week more heavily that regular." He said: "I have been fighting this week more heavily than I have in the last five years. The dropsy-ridden patient gave way to the power of Variot's Lithontriptic Cure too lightly. That's why the patient died. "I would have lived longer if it were not for Variot's Lithontriptic Cure.
