The Clemson Agricultural College
South Carolina's School of Engineering and Agriculture
1574 Acres of Land. Value of Plant, $1,550,000. Over 100 Teachers, Officers and Assistants. Enrollment 975.

Location and Environment

The College is located at the western extremity of the state, in the center of a rich agricultural region, and there is a fine climate.

Scholarships and Examinations

The College maintains 50 four-year scholarships in the Agricultural and Engineering Courses, and 36 in the One-Year Agricultural Course. (October 10th to June 7th). Each scholarship is worth $600 and free tuition.

Scholarship and entrance examinations are held at the county court houses at 9 a.m., July 13th. Write for full information in regard to the scholarships open to your county next session, and the laws governing their award. It is worth your while to try for one of these scholarships.

Those who are not seeking to enter on scholarships are advised to stand examinations on July 13th, rather than wait until they come to College in the fall. Credit will be given for any examinations passed at the county seat.

Requirements of Admission

An applicant for admission who is not at least 16 years old, or has not received an honorable discharge from the last school or college attended, shall be required to sign a protest to the College. The scholastic requirements are the same as those of

Courses of Study

Clemson College offers thirteen four-year courses leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science (B.S.), and seven short courses during the regular session and the summer sessions.

FOUR-YEAR DEGREE COURSES

Agriculture
Botany
Chemistry
Civil Engineering
Agricultural Engineering
Architectural Engineering
Short Courses (Regular Session)
One-year course in Agriculture
Two-year course in Textiles

Cost

The cost for any of the thirteen regular four-year courses or the Two-Year Textile Course is approximately $152.65 per session. This amount covers uniform, board, room, book, light, water, laundry and all fees, except tuition. Tuition is $50.00 additional to those who are found able to pay.

The cost of the One-Year Agricultural Course is approximately $123.65. This amount covers the same items as are listed above.

Do not delay in making application to enter, you may be crowded out.

Technical Education a Patriotic Duty

Since founded by the State in 1889, the Clemson School has been a leading factor in the development of the South. It is a State institution, and as such bears the responsibility of preparing the students for citizenship and the work of the future. It is the duty of the State to make the College a success, and the responsibility of each student to help carry on the work.

The Reserve Officers' Training Corps

Clemson College has been among the leaders in training young men for the Armed Forces of the United States. Clemson is one of the small number of institutions which are now accredited for training officers for the Reserve Officers' Training Corps. The students who wish to enter the Reserve Officers' Training Corps must apply for selection and receive a commission in the Regular Army upon satisfactory completion of the course. The Reserve Officers' Training Corps is an excellent preparation for officers in the Regular Army or the National Guard. It provides an opportunity for young men to combine the study of engineering and agriculture with the preparation for the highest civil and military positions.
