Thank you

Scholars

Your commitment to excellence and persistence through multiple challenges throughout your research are inspiring. Thank you for responding to the many requests for editorial changes and updates. The high quality of your work reflects well on you and on the program.

Mentors

Thank you to each of our Mentors for sharing your expertise with the Scholars. Your support throughout the research and graduate admissions processes are critical to the success of our Scholars. Words are not sufficient to express the gratitude the McNair Scholars and staff feel for the investments you have made in these outstanding students.

Stephanie Bartlett

As our Head McNair Writing Coach, Ms. Bartlett has supported the Scholars and Director through the preparation and documentation of the Scholars' high quality research, especially through this Bulletin. Our written products would not be as impressive without your conscientious reviews and leadership. Thank you, Stephanie, for your exceptional service to Winthrop's McNair Program.

Dr. Matt Hayes

The Scholars, staff, and sometimes Mentors, rely on the knowledge and skills of our Stats and Methods Coach. Thank you, Dr. Hayes, for meeting with the Scholars before, during, and after McNair research internship to help them design high quality research projects; walk them through the process of running, interpreting, and understanding statistical analyses; and prepare to disseminate their work at conferences and in writing.

Mrs. Barb Yeager & Mrs. Amanda Cavin

This volume would not be complete without recognizing the creativity and wisdom that both Barb Yeager and Amanda Cavin have brought to every McNair effort this year. Thank you, Barb and Amanda, for all you do.
