WASHINGTON LETTER.

Inimical at Delay—Announcement of a Commission to Examine Port of Call—Offering of the Bonds.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 30.—

The special news of the day is the report from the commission that the war has begun, as it was stated, but there is naturally much regret over the aggravating delay of the international commission. The meeting of Mr. Davis and Mr. Zollicoffer in Cuba, the negotiation of which is already in progress, will take place without further ado. Mr. Davis will arrive in time to negotiate the armistice, and Mr. Zollicoffer will be in time to negotiate the peace.

Mr. Davis will arrive in time to negotiate the armistice, and Mr. Zollicoffer will be in time to negotiate the peace.

SMALLEST PHRASE,  a woman this time we have seen, was the entry of a deserted area.

NEW YORK, June 10.—A special cable from Hong Kong says that a battle for the possession of Manila is expected to occur very soon, as the Spanish forces and their allies are preparing to defend the city. The Spanish government has requested the United States to send a fleet of warships, and the American authorities are considering the matter. The Spanish forces are estimated to be about 10,000, while the American forces are about 6,000.

The battle is expected to be fought on the island of Luzon, which is about 40 miles south of Manila. The American forces are under the command of Rear Admiral David Dixon Porter, and the Spanish forces are under the command of Admiral Manuel Torres y Peralta.

The battle is expected to be very fierce, as both sides are determined to hold their positions. The American forces are supported by a large fleet of warships, including the USS Monitor and the USS Merrimack. The Spanish forces are supported by a smaller fleet of warships, including the El Salvador and the San Carlos.

The battle is expected to last several days, and it is possible that there will be heavy casualties on both sides. The American forces are expected to have the upper hand, as they have more resources and better-trained soldiers.

The battle is expected to have a significant impact on the war. If the American forces succeed, they will be able to secure control of the Philippines, which will give them a strategic advantage in the Pacific.

COOL-DOVING TROOPS, in the Philippines.

Dr. Witherspoon, who is in charge of the medical department, has received a report from a hospital in the front lines that a large number of wounded soldiers are arriving. The hospital is doing its best to treat the wounded, but they have limited resources and are in need of more medical supplies.

The medical department is also facing a shortage of medical staff. Many of the doctors and nurses are on furlough, and it is difficult to find replacements. The medical department is appealing to the public to donate medical supplies and to volunteer as medical staff.

A shower of rain fell here Sunday afternoon, and from about the city limits northwards the country was drenched in its path. Mrs. W. H. B. Allen and Mrs. E. T. Allen, and Mrs. George Atkinson, left to-day for Dalton, where they will remain two weeks on a mining trip during the summer.

We learn that Dr. J. P. Young, who lost his life last Saturday afternoon by being run over by a train, was buried yesterday at Chesterfield, where he was born.

The City Nuisance Inspector arrested and fined a man for selling watermelon on Sunday.

A very representative crowd attended the commencement at New London, July 7th, the weather being very fine. The attendance was estimated at three thousand, and the event was regarded as a great success.

Our Boys Called Him Jim
