The sale of Colvin’s stock of goods will abound with money saving inducements that will truly prove a tonic to overworked pocketbooks. We caution you to come early as this sale will last for 10 days only. Everything must go rapidly. This will be the first sale of its kind that has ever occurred in this city, and may never occur again. In order to prove to you what a tremendous sacrifice must be made we have mentioned a few of the extraordinary bargains that will be offered. Bear in mind that there are 1,000 different articles we cannot mention here. We advise you to save this and bring it with you so that there will be no chance of you not getting exactly the goods mentioned above. Remember no postponement. Sale positively begins Thursday, July 5, at 9 A.M. and closed in 10 days. Satisfaction guaranteed in every instance or money refunded. Merchants from the city or the country wishing to purchase portions of this stock must call between the hours of 9 and 11 A.M., as all other hours are reserved for our immense retail trade. Sale positively opens Thursday, July 5, at 9 A.M. Ten days of inimitable bargains before the public.

NOTICE This large stock is to be sold at the earliest possible time. This will be the greatest farewell sale ever conducted in the State of South Carolina. We put forth such offerings that no matter what the weather conditions are you must and will be there to get your share. We hereby agree to refund the money on all goods bought at this sale.

Twenty miles of railroad fare paid to purchaser of $20 and over. Mail orders filled during this sale. Look for the Clean Sweep Sale.

IT'S TWO LATE THEN

When a piece of furniture proves useless worthlessly it's no use to remedy your misfortunes, since you cannot get back the money you have wasted. There's no use in running any risk. It costs you nothing to be sure, to know positively that your furniture is just what it ought to be, just what it is represented to be.

The Furniture you buy of us is backed by our full guarantee, and back of the guarantee is the money you pay us. A full line of Clothes, Caftans and Baskets at Lowest Prices.

"Morning, Aah, the little boy, what can’t I do with a cold?" What’s the use of trying to knock him? Make him laugh, and he’s off in a half minute. Try to put him to bed, and he won’t even stay in it. He’ll be up again in a few hours. It’s a real nuisance.

By a Little Girl in a Mississippi Army

"The stars were out, the moon was up, and the world was in darkness. I awoke from a deep slumber, for it had been a long, weary day. The place where I was was not my home, but rather a prison where I was held captive by the enemy. The reason was simple: I was a deserter's wife, and my husband had deserted the Union Army.

I had been given the task of caring for the sick and wounded soldiers, and I had done my best to provide them with comfort and care. However, the conditions were harsh, and I often wondered if I would ever be able to return to my home and family.

One day, I received a letter from my husband. The letter was written in code, and I had to decipher it in order to understand its contents. It was from him, and he was asking me to meet him at a specific place and time.

I knew that I had to act quickly, for my safety depended on it. I dressed in my best clothes and headed towards the meeting place. I was nervous, but I had to be brave.

When I arrived, I found my husband standing there, waiting for me. He was thin and gaunt, but his smile was that of true love. We spoke for a few moments, and then he handed me a bundle of things. It was a message from the Union Army, telling me to put the bundle in a safe place and keep it hidden.

I didn't know what to do, but I knew that it was important. I took the bundle and hid it in a secret place. I hoped that I would be able to return to my husband and family soon.

The days passed, and I waited for news. I heard rumors of a Union spy who had been captured, and I feared that it was my husband. I was nervous, but I knew that I had to stay strong.

Finally, after many long days, I received a letter from the Union Army. It was a message telling me that my husband had been cleared of the charge and was now free. I was overjoyed, and I knew that I had to go after him.

I dressed in my finest clothes and headed towards the prison. I found my husband standing there, waiting for me. We hugged each other, and I knew that we were finally free.

We spent the next few days together, making plans for our future. We knew that we had a long road ahead of us, but we were determined to make it work.

We eventually returned to our home, and we settled down to a life of peace and happiness. I knew that it would be hard, but I was determined to make it work. And I knew that I had my husband by my side."

On the eve of primary elections, the question of whether prohibition will prohibit has been a topic of great interest in the state of South Carolina. While some believe that prohibition will effectively regulate the sale of liquor, others argue that it will only lead to an increase in illegal activities.

The editor of the Evening Post, Mr. J. Fraser Lyon, has stated that he believes in the people's right to vote on the issue of prohibition. He has stated that the people are not being given the opportunity to vote on the issue, and that this is a violation of their democratic rights.

The editor of the Charleston Gazette, Mr. D. H. Westbrook, has also spoken out against the prohibition movement. He has stated that the Gazette is not against the prohibition of liquor, but rather against the methods being used to achieve it.

Mr. H. L. Manning, a editorial writer for the Charleston News, has stated that he believes that prohibition will prohibit. He has stated that the state of South Carolina is in a position to make a decision on the issue of prohibition, and that the people will ultimately decide whether or not to prohibit the sale of liquor.

Mr. R. L. Douglas, an attorney for the Charleston News, has stated that he believes that prohibition will prohibit. He has stated that the state of South Carolina is in a position to make a decision on the issue of prohibition, and that the people will ultimately decide whether or not to prohibit the sale of liquor.

Mr. J. R. Alexander, a reporter for the Charleston News, has stated that he believes that prohibition will prohibit. He has stated that the state of South Carolina is in a position to make a decision on the issue of prohibition, and that the people will ultimately decide whether or not to prohibit the sale of liquor.
