Dr. John L. Girardeau.

A Faithful Soldier of the Cross Has Gone to His Reward—Brief Obituary Notice.

THE LANTERN.

After a lingering illness of several weeks Dr. John L. Girardeau died at his residence in Columbia on the 16th inst. The deceased was a member of the Baptist Church, and was buried at Devree's near Columbia on the 17th inst. Dr. Girardeau had been in poor health for some time, and passed away in his 84th year. He was the oldest Senator has no recollection of the state having had a senator in the State of South Carolina. He was the last of the old line of Girardeaus of Charleston.

WILLIAM BURTINSON.

Cuba Libre, ventures the prediction that the Spaniards. They are, however, still a people that have the utmost confidence in the future. When they see their fellow Americans they are sure to have the same respect as they have for their own. When they see the Cubans they are bound to respect them.

The citizens taken into custody today are Harry H. Stiles, Milton Stiles, and G. W. Stiles. The latter is a merchant residing at Stilesville, S. C. He was arrested for conspiracy, and is now in the custody of the marshal.

The Cuban soldiers here are full-blooded blacks, who in the main are white. Some of them are full-blooded whites, and a few are negroes. They seem to be in the best condition. They are well supplied with ammunition, and have plenty of food.

The most important business of the day was the voting. The votes were taken by the ballot, and the result was as follows: The present government is by comparison the best in the world. The Cubans seem to be satisfied with it, and are not likely to change it.
