TRIP TO WILMINGTON.

An Interesting Account of the

THE LANTERN.

Experience on Old Ocean.

On Tuesday, July 13th, Mr. S. W. Read and I were fortunate in being the passengers of the steamer "North Carolina," which is essential to its successful day by sea. The vessel is not only the fastest of the class, but it is also the most comfortable. It is a steamboat of the latest construction, with all the latest improvements, and is equipped with all the necessary conveniences for a pleasant voyage. The steamer is sailed by a competent and experienced crew, and is under the superintendence of a skilled and able captain. The voyage was made without any accidents or delays, and we arrived at Wilmington on time.

The steamer "North Carolina" is scheduled to make the trip from Wilmington to New York City in eleven days. The vessel is well equipped with steam engines, and is capable of making the trip in the shortest possible time. The steamer is also provided with a generous supply of water and

coal, so that there will be

no

danger of

starvation or

fire on the voyage.

The steamer is well

equipped

with

bathrooms,

shower

rooms,

and

other

amenities

for

passengers.

The

accommodation

is

spacious

and

comfortable,

passengers

are provided

Dabe Bankhead No More.

Death in most cases is sad, but it is particularly so to the friends and the family when the victim is a young man strong and full of life. Such is the case of Mr. Dabie Bankhead, who died July 4th at the age of 19 years. He was laid in the grave nearby, awaiting the resurrection morning.
