7-29-1898

The Lantern, Chester S.C.- July 29, 1898

J T. Bigham

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/chesterlantern1898

Part of the Journalism Studies Commons, and the Social History Commons

Recommended Citation
Bigham, J T., "The Lantern, Chester S.C.- July 29, 1898" (1898). The Chester Lantern 1898. 60.
https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/chesterlantern1898/60

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the The Chester Lantern at Digital Commons @ Winthrop University. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Chester Lantern 1898 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Winthrop University. For more information, please contact bramed@winthrop.edu.
BALEIPORTO RIC.

A Native Tale of its People and its Beaurity—Healthful and Profitable.

San Juan is a city in the southeast of Puerto Rico, the capital city of the island. The city is known for its colonial architecture and beautiful vistas.

The Scholars of Puerto Rico are for railroad trains and oil. They can fight and will fight. The war will probably be sent to those shores. Otonne is a big fort. San Fortaleza is a big fort, Saporo is a big fort. About thirty yards down from the line of the shore there. Morro castle is a large fort. It is connected with another fort—Sarri and with the shore there. The bridge or go over in the ferryboat. The ferryboat takes you into the town. The bridge is a re so placed as to command almost a view of the main island from the shore. There are not a wooden building in the city. The city is forty building in four stories high, and there is only one of that height. That is the reason why is no healthy life in the city. The streets are very long, and the people are wild with the sight of Hert. Particularly in the main roads. There is a street full of people, and the people are wild with the sight of Hert. Particularly in the main roads. It is said that there are three times that times have been lost to Puerto Rico, and San Juan is so guarded, as it is by a stretch of water about one hundred yards wide. This water is not deep, but it is strong and swift.

The bridge is a stone bridge, armed with guns, placed so as to command both the others, and any body of a force that might attack should have a hard time. On each side the carriage bridge, on each side. It is not cut, upon which are placed guns. The bridge is armed with guns. There are about thirty yards down from the eastern end of a big fort, San Fortaleza.

Near the northern end of the island the coast is very rough and rugged. The city is at the point where the Atlantic sea meets the Pacific. There is a street full of people, and the people are wild with the sight of Hert. Particularly in the main roads. A street full of people, and the people are wild with the sight of Hert. Particularly in the main roads. It is said that there are three times that times have been lost to Puerto Rico, and San Juan is so guarded, as it is by a stretch of water about one hundred yards wide. This water is not deep, but it is strong and swift.

The bridge is a stone bridge, armed with guns, placed so as to command both the others, and any body of a force that might attack should have a hard time. On each side the carriage bridge, on each side. It is not cut, upon which are placed guns. The bridge is armed with guns. There are about thirty yards down from the eastern end of a big fort, San Fortaleza.

Near the northern end of the island the coast is very rough and rugged. The city is at the point where the Atlantic sea meets the Pacific. There is a street full of people, and the people are wild with the sight of Hert. Particularly in the main roads. A street full of people, and the people are wild with the sight of Hert. Particularly in the main roads. It is said that there are three times that times have been lost to Puerto Rico, and San Juan is so guarded, as it is by a stretch of water about one hundred yards wide. This water is not deep, but it is strong and swift.

The bridge is a stone bridge, armed with guns, placed so as to command both the others, and any body of a force that might attack should have a hard time. On each side the carriage bridge, on each side. It is not cut, upon which are placed guns. The bridge is armed with guns. There are about thirty yards down from the eastern end of a big fort, San Fortaleza.

Near the northern end of the island the coast is very rough and rugged. The city is at the point where the Atlantic sea meets the Pacific. There is a street full of people, and the people are wild with the sight of Hert. Particularly in the main roads. A street full of people, and the people are wild with the sight of Hert. Particularly in the main roads. It is said that there are three times that times have been lost to Puerto Rico, and San Juan is so guarded, as it is by a stretch of water about one hundred yards wide. This water is not deep, but it is strong and swift.

The bridge is a stone bridge, armed with guns, placed so as to command both the others, and any body of a force that might attack should have a hard time. On each side the carriage bridge, on each side. It is not cut, upon which are placed guns. The bridge is armed with guns. There are about thirty yards down from the eastern end of a big fort, San Fortaleza.

Near the northern end of the island the coast is very rough and rugged. The city is at the point where the Atlantic sea meets the Pacific. There is a street full of people, and the people are wild with the sight of Hert. Particularly in the main roads. A street full of people, and the people are wild with the sight of Hert. Particularly in the main roads. It is said that there are three times that times have been lost to Puerto Rico, and San Juan is so guarded, as it is by a stretch of water about one hundred yards wide. This water is not deep, but it is strong and swift.

The bridge is a stone bridge, armed with guns, placed so as to command both the others, and any body of a force that might attack should have a hard time. On each side the carriage bridge, on each side. It is not cut, upon which are placed guns. The bridge is armed with guns. There are about thirty yards down from the eastern end of a big fort, San Fortaleza.

Near the northern end of the island the coast is very rough and rugged. The city is at the point where the Atlantic sea meets the Pacific. There is a street full of people, and the people are wild with the sight of Hert. Particularly in the main roads. A street full of people, and the people are wild with the sight of Hert. Particularly in the main roads. It is said that there are three times that times have been lost to Puerto Rico, and San Juan is so guarded, as it is by a stretch of water about one hundred yards wide. This water is not deep, but it is strong and swift.

The bridge is a stone bridge, armed with guns, placed so as to command both the others, and any body of a force that might attack should have a hard time. On each side the carriage bridge, on each side. It is not cut, upon which are placed guns. The bridge is armed with guns. There are about thirty yards down from the eastern end of a big fort, San Fortaleza.

Near the northern end of the island the coast is very rough and rugged. The city is at the point where the Atlantic sea meets the Pacific. There is a street full of people, and the people are wild with the sight of Hert. Particularly in the main roads. A street full of people, and the people are wild with the sight of Hert. Particularly in the main roads. It is said that there are three times that times have been lost to Puerto Rico, and San Juan is so guarded, as it is by a stretch of water about one hundred yards wide. This water is not deep, but it is strong and swift.
A little trip to a city recently occurred to the occasion of the press as the seamen, members of the association. At Wilmington, a gentleman, a lady, and a child of three years got on the train. They were going to...
JOS. WYLIE A Co. offer different oats or other good feed at ten cents a line. Blank Receipts—Printed on good paper for sale at this office.

On Monday, a delightful May morning, we visited the Farm of Messrs. James Wylie and A. G. Bricker, where we learned that the season was advancing rapidly and that the crops were in good condition. The farmers were busy with their work and seemed content with the progress of their fields.

The Competitive Examination for scholarships in the South Carolina Military Academy will be held August 25th. Those interested are asked to apply to the office.

The competitive examination for scholarships in the South Carolina Military Academy will be held in August. Those interested are asked to apply to the office.

The Family has been enlarged. Special attention to English, History, and Literature. A new Graduate Department. Early application for 1899.

Greenville Female College.

GREENVILLE, S. C. September 20, 1898.

Dear Sirs:—The Secretary's last notice not having been noticed, and in order to give due notice to those who may have been absent, I am directed to send the following:

The Family has been enlarged. Special attention to English, History, and Literature. A new Graduate Department. Early application for 1899.

The Secretary, Greenville Female College.

FURMAN UNIVERSITY, GREENVILLE, S. C.

Greenville Female College.

GREENVILLE, S. C. September 20, 1898.

Dear Sirs:—The Secretary's last notice not having been noticed, and in order to give due notice to those who may have been absent, I am directed to send the following:

The Family has been enlarged. Special attention to English, History, and Literature. A new Graduate Department. Early application for 1899.

The Secretary, Greenville Female College.

FURMAN UNIVERSITY, GREENVILLE, S. C.

Greenville Female College.

GREENVILLE, S. C. September 20, 1898.

Dear Sirs:—The Secretary's last notice not having been noticed, and in order to give due notice to those who may have been absent, I am directed to send the following:

The Family has been enlarged. Special attention to English, History, and Literature. A new Graduate Department. Early application for 1899.

The Secretary, Greenville Female College.

FURMAN UNIVERSITY, GREENVILLE, S. C.

Greenville Female College.

GREENVILLE, S. C. September 20, 1898.

Dear Sirs:—The Secretary's last notice not having been noticed, and in order to give due notice to those who may have been absent, I am directed to send the following:

The Family has been enlarged. Special attention to English, History, and Literature. A new Graduate Department. Early application for 1899.

The Secretary, Greenville Female College.

FURMAN UNIVERSITY, GREENVILLE, S. C.

Greenville Female College.

GREENVILLE, S. C. September 20, 1898.

Dear Sirs:—The Secretary's last notice not having been noticed, and in order to give due notice to those who may have been absent, I am directed to send the following:

The Family has been enlarged. Special attention to English, History, and Literature. A new Graduate Department. Early application for 1899.

The Secretary, Greenville Female College.

FURMAN UNIVERSITY, GREENVILLE, S. C.
Here is a question about which every Carolina man ought to think. It is written in the daily newspapers: "Is it right for Carolina to sell liquor to its own citizens?" This question reads, "Is it right for Carolina to sell this liquor to its own citizens?" It is an absurd situation to be in. Carolina is selling liquor in Carolina, and there are many who feel that this is not right.

The question of whether it is right for Carolina to sell liquor to its own citizens is a complex one. Many believe that it is not right, as it goes against the principles of temperance and self-restraint. Others argue that it is right, as it helps to support the economy and provides an outlet for those who wish to drink.

The question of whether it is right for Carolina to sell liquor to its own citizens is a question that every Carolina man ought to think about. It is a question that is not only important for the individuals involved, but also for the state as a whole.

The question of whether it is right for Carolina to sell liquor to its own citizens is a question that is not only important for the individuals involved, but also for the state as a whole. It is a question that is not only important for the individuals involved, but also for the state as a whole.