The Lantern, Chester S.C.- August 10, 1906

J T. Bigham
The farmers' mutual insurance company of Chester County, S. C., was incorporated several years ago, and those who understand the business feel that it will prove a success. The company at present has a capital stock of money, and a surplus of money, and they have invested a considerable amount of money in property. The company has a number of policies in force, and the premiums are collected on a regular and systematic basis. The company is well managed and is expected to continue its growth.
