HYDROPHOBIA

High Authorities Have Been Unable to Find a Wall Austrahaed from Dogs.

An animal friendly, official report of the S. P. C. A. C. D., containning the term "Rabies and Hydrophoby," the article attracted the attention of one of the authors, who was interested in the problem. It appears that the term is often used to describe a condition in which dogs are fearfully and viciously aggressive towards others, and that this condition is often caused by the presence of rabies in the area. The article goes on to state that the condition is not rare, and that it is important to be aware of the signs and symptoms of the disease.

Off the Necessaries.

Of necessity the necessaries for two floors, we would have to assume a certain quantity of tables, chairs, and kitchen utensils, as well as a considerable amount of hardware such as locks and keys. But we would also have to consider the possibility of having a piano or other musical instruments, as well as a small library for the family's entertainment.

The other items we would have to consider are those that are more perishable, such as food and drink. We would need to keep a supply of bread, butter, and cheeses, as well as a variety of fruits and vegetables. We would also need to have a supply of milk, eggs, and other dairy products, as well as a variety of meats and poultry.

In addition to these necessities, we would also have to consider the possibility of having a small garden, as well as a supply of seeds and tools for maintenance.

The other items we would have to consider are those that are more durable, such as furniture and clothing. We would need to have a supply of clothing for all members of the family, as well as a variety of household items such as dishes, glassware, and silverware.

We would also need to have a supply of books and magazines, as well as a variety of games and puzzles for entertainment.

NOTICE.

Mr. A. M. AIKEN, Agent for the Northern『 et, on Monday, Aug. 30, 1901.

The Buyer for the New York Racket Stock.

We are in New York City among the great crowd of workers from his country scooping up thousands upon thousands of British for his many friends.

Space has to be made for this tremendous Fall Stock that he is buying. To make room for the Fall Stock, Mr. Cloutz told his clerks before Labor Day to reduce the Summer Goods. Summer Goods had left there must be cut before his return, but for that reason, too, the prices were cut to the bone. If it was for less than $1....we would have to close.

We have very few light weight Summer goods left. We have a few medium weights that will do till the end of the season, but besides that, we don’t have anything better and must lose money.

A Girl Should Laugh.

In the case of the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Deputy, a man was killed in the line of duty.

Volunteer teachers were called to duty, but it was uncertain whether they would come.

A letter was published in the Los Angeles Times expressing sympathy for the families of the fallen officers.

A memorial service was held in the county courthouse.

A Democrat of Los Angeles was quoted as saying, "We have always been known as a conservative city, but today we are united in our sorrow."
