Mr. J. O. Lamy.

Governor Hoyward yesterday proclaimed Jiggers, of Chester, S. C., to be a law of the land.
"The civil service law was placed on the statute books by the Republican party, and we renew our former declarations that it shall be thoroughly and honestly enforced. We are always mindful of the country's debt to the soldiers—and sailors of the United States—and will support every national measure for the maintenance of the pension laws.

We favor the peaceful settlement of international difficulties by arbitration. We commend the vigorous efforts made by the administration to protect American citizens in foreign lands, and pledge ourselves to insist upon the just and equal protection of all our citizens abroad. It is the unquestionable duty of the government to procure for all our citizens, without distinction, the rights of travel and sojourn in friendly countries, and we declare ourselves in favor of all proper efforts tending to that end.

Our great Interests and our growing commerce in the Orient render the condition of China of high importance to the United States. We heartily commend the policy pursued in that direction by the administrations of President McKinley and President Roosevelt.

Suffrage Restriction.

We favor such Congressional action as shall determine whether, by special discriminations, the franchise for any State has been unconstitutionally limited, and if such is the case, we demand that representation in Congress and in the electoral college shall be proportionally reduced as directed by the Constitution of the United States.

Combinations of capital and of labor are the results of the economic movement of the age, but neither must be permitted to infringe upon the rights and interests of the people. Such combinations, when lawfully formed for lawful purposes, are alike entitled to the protection of the laws, and neither can be permitted to break them.

The great statesman and patriotic American, William McKinley, who was re-elected by the Republican party to the Presidency four years ago, was assassinated just at the threshold of his second term. The entire nation mourned his untimely death and did that justice to his great qualities of mind and character which history will confirm and repeat.

The American people were fortunate in his successor, to whom they turned with a trust and a confidence which have been fully justified. President Roosevelt brought to the great responsibilities thus sadly forced upon him a clear head, a brave heart, an ardent patriotism and high ideals of public duty and public service. True to the principles of the Republican party and to the policies which that party had declared, he has also shown himself ready for every emergency.

The public issues demand their attention, but this work cannot be comprehended by any other than the business of the nation. In the case, we demand that the interests and in the public interest be carefully and impartially considered, and that the principles of the Constitution be scrupulously observed.

Considerations of race and of the condition of the colored race must be given due weight in any legislation upon the subject. We believe that the colored race should be permitted to develop fully in its own line, with due regard for the interests and safety of the white race, and that the colored race shall have the same condition as the white race, with due regard for the interests and safety of the white race, and that the white race shall have the same condition as the white race, with due regard for the interests and safety of the white race.

The administration has been harmonious and energetic, and we commend it to the support of our loyal countrymen.

PREMONITORY VISITORS DECLARE IT SURPASSES ALL EXPECTATIONS

The Opinion is Unanimous
That No Other Exposition Ever Equalled the One at St. Louis, and to an Extraordinary Degree

St. Louis—During the past few days the visit of prominent institutions and organizations of all kinds to the World's Fair has been taking place. The attendance of these visitors has been more than anticipated. The following are some of the comments made:

Miss Nettie Blackmore, Minneapolis, tells how any young woman should take advantage of the special rates offered for her kind of meetings. The Minneapolis Times commented:

"Two things strike me particularly concerning the St. Louis Exposition. The first is the great beauty of the whole enterprise, the second is the great beauty of the whole enterprise, which is played upon by every life. It is by no means the greatest of all, but it is greater."

THE LANTERN, CHESTER, S. C.
The duties of the President and the Vice-President are often compared to those of a ship's captain and his first mate. The President is the captain, guiding the country through the storms and currents of national life. The Vice-President, or first mate, is there to assist and support the President, ready to take charge when necessary. This relationship is one of trust and partnership, each assuming their roles with the utmost dedication to the well-being of the nation.
