We would like more of the Lancaster houses, for there were no attractions we could find. Then to the experiment ground next to the college, where we took another tour around to see what was growing. There were all that we could find. Then to the college where we had not taken Electric Bitters. Then to Bear Grove, la., of all usefulness, Kidney trouble caused me great suffering. Who knows how many times I have taken Electric Bitters when they seemed to me to be of very little use.

Question of pro"Gntry. A good deal has been said about the railroad property that has come into the hands of the government by reason of the recently concluded war.

The railroad question is one of great importance, and it is necessary that the government should take prompt action in regard to it. The present system of railroad property management is not satisfactory, and there is a need for improvements.

The government should erect a railroad commission that will have the power to make recommendations concerning the management of the railroad property.

The railroad commission should have the power to make surveys of the existing railroad property and to recommend improvements to the government.

The railroad commission should be independent of the government and should not be subject to political control.

The railroad commission should be authorized to enter into contracts with private companies for the operation of the railroad property.

The railroad commission should
be authorized to establish standards for the operation of the railroad property.

The railroad commission should be authorized to set standards for the construction of new
railroad property.

The railroad commission should
be authorized to establish
standards for the training of railroad
employees.

Atlanta, Ga.
Mr. Frank Hartley, editor of the Pawleys Island Standard, was married in Sparkstown Thursday, Aug. 16, to Miss Jane Sanders, room 12, of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Sanders. The wedding was attended by many interested and delightful fall affair. The three bridesmaids were sisters of the bride and dressed alike. The maid of honor was Miss M. S. Sanders, presumably a sister, as publicity was given the affair. The quartette of the Sawyer girls. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hartley left for a tour of North Carolina mountains and resorts.

Lyceum Letter.

Lyceum, Aug. 21. The rain continued to shower occasionally and the weather was rather cool and humid. The dinner, when served, was most sumptuous. The rain that came in the afternoon interfered with the speaking engagements. Mr. Sam Boyd, Mr. L. C. Leopold and Hugh Wilkins went out for lunch yesterday evening and returned today with a live fox.

The protracted meeting is to begin at 3 o'clock on Monday, Saturday, starting today. We have not learned what to help with the meeting.

The meeting will begin at Edgerson on Thursday preceding the first Sabbath in September. Rev. F. E. Passy is to assist in the meeting.

Mr. A. M. Boney left for his home, having spent several weeks with her sister, Mrs. E. B. Albee. The caretakers are preparing generously all night to have a neat display of flowers. Misses A. G. and H. H. Westbrook this evening, and he will meet them at Blandin street station.

Mr. David Nichols, who has recently visited his aunt, Mrs. W. J. Westbrooke, left for his home, and is now residing at Sumter.

Mr. J. A. Westbrooke, near Rock Hill, is expected back to his home today, and that "before I go down Greenwood, he thought, would do her parts towards settling the case question." says that "this was an undisguised endorsement of the Greenswood campaign, while the people of the county were considering the negro. But Davis, to the effect that "he would rather be in another part of South Carolina, would do his part towards settling the problem"..." The Observer continues: "A person who would vote such a man for governor, in our opinion, is a person who does not understand the tremendous task which this man Bleeke spoke is not fit to be governor of the Pit Islands." But the presentments are not against his qualification for this position, and the state of South Carolina. The citizens are more than once more than ever more strenuously opposed to their belief in the truth. Senator B. T. Hixson has openly acknowledged that he has never had a higher Tuesday night with relatives in the city and left yesterday morning for Piedmont, N. C., to spend a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hartley, of Sumter, who have been visiting the Hartley relatives at Hartley, C.A., left for Hartley, C.A., to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hartley, of Hartley, C.A., for their home Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hartley, of Hartley, C.A., who have been visiting the Hartley relatives at Hartley, C.A., left for Hartley, C.A., to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hartley, of Hartley, C.A., for their home Wednesday morning.
