The Lantern, Chester S.C.- September 30, 1904

J T. Bigham

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/chesterlantern1904

Part of the Journalism Studies Commons, and the Social History Commons

Recommended Citation
https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/chesterlantern1904/77

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the The Chester Lantern at Digital Commons @ Winthrop University. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Chester Lantern 1904 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Winthrop University. For more information, please contact digitalcommons@mailbox.winthrop.edu.
Lord Roscommon began the singing.

"The song from the Formanr," was the answer.

And in the room what good it was that we should have a song from the Formanr, for we were very much in need of a song. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

But in the moment of what I shall call "nothing," I begin to see a smile on your face, and I begin to think that the song was not entirely successful. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

And in the room what good it was that we should have a song from the Formanr, for we were very much in need of a song. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

But in the moment of what I shall call "nothing," I begin to see a smile on your face, and I begin to think that the song was not entirely successful. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

And in the room what good it was that we should have a song from the Formanr, for we were very much in need of a song. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

But in the moment of what I shall call "nothing," I begin to see a smile on your face, and I begin to think that the song was not entirely successful. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

And in the room what good it was that we should have a song from the Formanr, for we were very much in need of a song. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

But in the moment of what I shall call "nothing," I begin to see a smile on your face, and I begin to think that the song was not entirely successful. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

And in the room what good it was that we should have a song from the Formanr, for we were very much in need of a song. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

But in the moment of what I shall call "nothing," I begin to see a smile on your face, and I begin to think that the song was not entirely successful. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

And in the room what good it was that we should have a song from the Formanr, for we were very much in need of a song. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

But in the moment of what I shall call "nothing," I begin to see a smile on your face, and I begin to think that the song was not entirely successful. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

And in the room what good it was that we should have a song from the Formanr, for we were very much in need of a song. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

But in the moment of what I shall call "nothing," I begin to see a smile on your face, and I begin to think that the song was not entirely successful. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

And in the room what good it was that we should have a song from the Formanr, for we were very much in need of a song. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

But in the moment of what I shall call "nothing," I begin to see a smile on your face, and I begin to think that the song was not entirely successful. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

And in the room what good it was that we should have a song from the Formanr, for we were very much in need of a song. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

But in the moment of what I shall call "nothing," I begin to see a smile on your face, and I begin to think that the song was not entirely successful. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

And in the room what good it was that we should have a song from the Formanr, for we were very much in need of a song. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

But in the moment of what I shall call "nothing," I begin to see a smile on your face, and I begin to think that the song was not entirely successful. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

And in the room what good it was that we should have a song from the Formanr, for we were very much in need of a song. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

But in the moment of what I shall call "nothing," I begin to see a smile on your face, and I begin to think that the song was not entirely successful. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

And in the room what good it was that we should have a song from the Formanr, for we were very much in need of a song. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

But in the moment of what I shall call "nothing," I begin to see a smile on your face, and I begin to think that the song was not entirely successful. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

And in the room what good it was that we should have a song from the Formanr, for we were very much in need of a song. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

But in the moment of what I shall call "nothing," I begin to see a smile on your face, and I begin to think that the song was not entirely successful. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

And in the room what good it was that we should have a song from the Formanr, for we were very much in need of a song. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

But in the moment of what I shall call "nothing," I begin to see a smile on your face, and I begin to think that the song was not entirely successful. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

And in the room what good it was that we should have a song from the Formanr, for we were very much in need of a song. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

But in the moment of what I shall call "nothing," I begin to see a smile on your face, and I begin to think that the song was not entirely successful. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

And in the room what good it was that we should have a song from the Formanr, for we were very much in need of a song. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

But in the moment of what I shall call "nothing," I begin to see a smile on your face, and I begin to think that the song was not entirely successful. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

And in the room what good it was that we should have a song from the Formanr, for we were very much in need of a song. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

But in the moment of what I shall call "nothing," I begin to see a smile on your face, and I begin to think that the song was not entirely successful. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.

And in the room what good it was that we should have a song from the Formanr, for we were very much in need of a song. And in five minutes, I am sure, that song was sung, and we were all very much pleased.
Miss Alice Coogler left for Rock Hill Wednesday and is spending a few days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Coogler, of Atlanta, Georgia.

Miss Genevieve Hale, of Baltimore, Md., has left for various positions in the graded school. Miss Hale has been studying pharmacy for some time, and has applied for a position in one of the large drug stores in the city.

Miss Brown, of Lowryville, and one of the leading business women of the town, has left for New York City.

Miss Bessie Roddick's beautiful collection of flowers is now on exhibit in the Exchange Bank.

Miss Alice Coogler is spending a few days at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Coogler, of Atlanta, Georgia.

The funeral of Mr. D. M. Sims, who was stricken with paralysis some time ago, will be held at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sims, of Blackstock, this afternoon. The services will be conducted by Rev. Mr. M. L. Irwin, of the Presbyterian church.

The death of Mr. David Gross, at Bascomville, was announced this week. He was 54 years of age and leaves his wife and four children. The services were conducted by Rev. Mr. J. T. Coogler, of the Methodist church.

The Majestic Cooking Range is now on exhibit in the Exchange Bank.

The steel ranges are made to fit every condition and every purse. Examine the Majestic Cooking Range today.

The Silver Spoons are now on exhibit in the Exchange Bank.

The Water and Spratt Company.

Come and let us tell you more about Jewels.

New Arrival at Mckee's

Money Talks

The Water and Spratt Company.

Fresh Arrivals at Mckee's

Majestic Cooking Range

Majestic Ranges are made in all styles and sizes, to fit every condition and every purse. Examine the Majestic Ranges today and see what we have to offer.

DeHaven-Dawson Supply Co.

Rubber Stamps

We are going to give, absolutely free, to every purchaser of a Majestic Range, during the next three weeks, a complete set of Majestic Ranges, to the value of $100.

RUBBER STAMPS are now on exhibit in the Exchange Bank.

Majestic Ranges are made in all styles and sizes, to fit every condition and every purse. Examine the Majestic Ranges today and see what we have to offer.
There is a fire at the depot. As the money left the post office, a man said that some gold had been stolen. The money was identified and the man was identified as a suspect. The police were called and the man was arrested. The man said that he had stolen the money to pay for his debts. The police found a large amount of money in his possession. The man was charged with theft and was sent to jail. The money was returned to the bank and the man was released. The story was reported in the local newspaper.