In the street, there are many people. The atmosphere is loud, with the sound of voices and the clank of metal. The air is hot and heavy, and the smell of sweat is palpable. The people are rushing about, some carrying baskets, others pushing strollers. The street is crowded, with people walking in every direction.

In the background, a building rises up. It is a large structure, with many windows. The people are walking past it, some turning to look. It seems to be an important building, perhaps a government office or a hotel.

The sun beats down on the people, and they sweat. They are tired, but they keep going. It is a busy day in the city, and everyone is working hard. The street is alive with activity, and there is a sense of purpose in the air.

Brooklyn's Opening.

William J. D. Sullivan was about to make his appearance in the new Brooklyn, and was going to do so in a way to make the spectators of his new work take notice of him. The theater was opened on Monday night, and the audience was large and enthusiastic. The performance was a great success, and the critics were unanimous in their praise of the new work.

Red Wine Fainting.

A woman fainted in the theatre on Sunday night, and was revived after a short time. She was taken to the hospital, where she was examined by the doctors, and found to be in perfect health. The cause of her fainting is unknown, and she was discharged from the hospital later that evening.

Mary Smith, of Waverly Place, has been discharged from the hospital after a short illness.

M. B. L. C. Student's parade on Main Street.

A parade of M. B. L. C. students was held on Main Street, and was a great success. The students were dressed in their finest, and they marched to the sound of music. The parade attracted a large crowd, and everyone enjoyed the sights and sounds of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Davis, of Chester, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Davis, of Union, were married in the church of St. John's, on Monday morning. The wedding was a beautiful affair, and was attended by many of the friends of the couple.

Mrs. Irving, of Franklin, has been married to Mr. J. H. Smith, of Sumter, on Monday morning. The wedding was a simple and happy one, and was attended by many of the friends of the couple.

Deceased.

Mrs. J. C. Allen, of Dougherty, died on Sunday night, after a short illness. She was a kindly and gentle woman, and will be missed by many.

Reverend Mr. P. F. Allen, of Waverly Place, was inaugurated as pastor of the church on Sunday night. The ceremony was a simple and dignified one, and was attended by many of the members of the church.

Dr. J. C. Chinn, of Dougherty, has been appointed as the new principal of the city school. He will take office on Monday morning.

An opening...
Mr. A. W. Lowry of Edenton left Saturday for a trip to Atlanta.

Mr. Chris F. Holbrook of Arthur was yesterday in town visiting with his grandmother, Mrs. W. H. Hardin, on her way to Columbia to visit relatives. Mrs. H. E. McConnell and son, Mr. L. E. McConnell, Mr. J. K. Jr., left Saturday a week ago to visit relatives in Jacksonville, Fla., who have been spending a few days with Mr. J. W. D. and N. G. Jackson, of Atlanta.

Mr. Albert Whiteside, of Rock Hill, arrived Friday to visit Mrs. E. A. C. and Mrs. I. N. Whiteside, at Lewisburg, N. C.

The cool, damp day today is unfavorable for the pretty display of fall and winter goods. The display isn't as it should be, for they are liable to be burned or stolen. They are not safe if you have them about your store or home, even if they are in an ordinary safe, for they are liable to be burned or stolen. Keep all such valuables in a bank. The cost will be small, and your papers will be absolutely safe. Come in and let us show you.

THE COMMERCIAL BANK, CHESTER, S. C.

KLUTTZ IS HOME from New York City.

Car loads of goods have come in during the past weeks and loads are arriving daily.

Kluttz considers it the most remarkable money saving visit he ever made North.

In a few days we will have the most comprehensive display of Fall and Winter Goods ever conveyed to Chester. We urge you to come in now and inspect them. A visit surely entails no obligations to purchase.
