11-10-1916

The Chester News November 10, 1916

W. W. Pegram

Stewart L. Cassels

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/chesternews1916

Part of the Journalism Studies Commons, and the Social History Commons

Recommended Citation
https://digitalcommons.winthrop.edu/chesternews1916/89

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the The Chester News at Digital Commons @ Winthrop University. It has been accepted for inclusion in Chester News 1916 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Winthrop University. For more information, please contact bramed@winthrop.edu.

TRAXLER CAN HARDLY BE PUT ORN BT NICHOLS Said Burke. Ii Ouonl. AID ASKED OF WILSON
-- Tin Tribune

More than a year ago, standing in the presence of a hideous massacre knowing that Americans, men, women and children, had been ruthlessly slaughtered by a German act, Woodrow Wilson told the world that the American people were too proud to fight.

In a moment of a great national election Mr. Wilson went before the United States and asked them to decide his sentiment, to confirm that decision.

Mr. Wilson has his answer. The country and the world have the answer of the American people. On the day of election the American people have not forgotten the Lusitania. "Too proud to fight" has proved an epitaph anil not a slogan.

Mr. Wilson believed the American people were cowardly, selfish, careless only of their safety and unconcerned as to their honor.

The lesson of this election is less pointed for Mr. Hughes than for Mr. Wilson. Yesterday the American people passed judgment not upon him but upon Mr. Wilson. In their judgment there is a meaning that only a blind man could fail to perceive. Mr. Wilson's defeat is only the first step in national rehabilitation; the road is long and difficult, but no man who volunteers to lead and, volunteering, falls will be forgiven.

It is not unnatural in the general dangers which menace our country in this present disturbed state of the world, that these serious and persistent and vital errors of the Democratic Administration in matters affecting the honor and dignity and welfare of the United States abroad should have been considered more important by the electorate than the notably good achievements of the Democratic Administration in domestic affairs.

The Currency Reform Act. The Labor Law, the Eight-Hour Law, the Rural Credit Law, good as they are, were not enough to overcome the evil and the fear of further evil for which the Administration's attitude in foreign policies was responsible.

The Republican legend is still vital. Like the Napoleonic legend, it Mr.;:;vives death and disaster; its power, though diminished, dominates the country. The Time has often said that the country is better off under a Republican year than under a Democratic Administration. Now and then it uses the Democratic Party as a whip to scourge the Republicans into good behavior; duly-chastened, they are returned to power.

The business interests, the money interests of the country, gave whole-hearted support to Mr. Hughes in the campaign now ended. That tremendous factor of strength was too powerful for the Democrats to overcome.

A return to the policy of high protective duties, and that was the life and soul of the Republican campaign in its last two vocational, will not insure prosperity; almost certainly it would shackle the export trade which we must build up in volume and in value if we would assure to ourselves a reasonable measure of prosperity during the period of depression that must follow the end of the European war.

History will do full justice to Mr. Wilson's Administration. It will write the truth about his management of our foreign relations—that it is a matter of record that he has been in office just over two years and that in that time our country has suffered such manifold and disastrous losses.

The American people are looking for a leader. The American people are looking for a leader who will have the courage to act and the power to lead. The American people are looking for a leader who will have the wisdom to guide and the strength to win.

Mr. Wilson's defeat was due entirely to his insistence upon committing errors in his foreign policies and in his attitude toward Mexican affairs.

Mr. Wilson's domestic policies were almost all good, policies.

Mr. Wilson's foreign policies were...
DEPUTY ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, D.C., May 1, 1916.

Supt. Soc. Sec. Ark.:

I am directed to state that the Surveyor General of Arkansas has been appointed to locate the southern boundary of the State of Arkansas, and further that the Surveyor General of Arkansas has accepted the appointment.

Very respectfully,

[Signature]

DEPUTY SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY.
The Big Store

Suits, Coats and Dresses

We have just received another shipment of Suits, Coats and Dresses, and they are beautiful. The Senator's latest creations in Wool Velour and Silk Plush Coats, Satin Charmeuse and Serges in the newest styles.

Suits from $10.00 to $25.00 Coats from $5.00 to $25.00 Dresses from $5.00 to $25.00

We are showing a beautiful line of Waists, Voiles and Organzas.

Georgeo Crepe Waists
Crape De Chine Waists
Voile and Organza

See our lines of Ladies' Bath Robes, Knit and House Dresses. Children's Coats and Wool Serge Suits. Come and see us before buying. We will save you money.

The S. M. Jones Company

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Said

Miss Lola Smith, Lattie Alert and others came from Washington and visited their friend Miss Lora Simpson last afternoon. A visit to Miss B. J. Smith was also made.

Prof. Marion Boud Walker, who is attending a course in the musical faculty of Juniata College, of Huntingdon, Pa., is spending a while at home on account of his serious illness.

J. L. Young at Clinton.

Mrs. R. E. Sims entertained de-

Mrs. R. E. Sims entertained guests on Thursday morning in her home. Some beautiful flowers were also presented to Mrs. Robert E. Abell.

Mr. and Louise Guy returned Wednes-

Mr. and Louise Guy returned Wednesday afternoon from a visit to Mrs. W. A. Corkill.

Reading by Mrs. W. A. Corkill.

Prayer by Rev. J. H. Yarborough.

We urge our friends of Chester to attend the different meetings of Mr. Albert S. Johnstone of the State Board of Charities and Corrections, who will tell of his contact with the prisoners throughout the State, and their living conditions.

There will be no admission fee.

The following is the program for Tuesday night:—Old Armenia, Nov. 10th—The last reading by Mrs. W. A. Corkill. Program for Tuesday night—Old Armenia, Nov. 10th—The last reading by Mrs. W. A. Corkill.

Prayer by Rev. J. H. Yarborough.

The Chester Chapter U. D. C., will meet with Mrs. Robert E. Abell, on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

The following is the program for Tuesday night:—Old Armenia, Nov. 10th—The last reading by Mrs. W. A. Corkill. Program for Tuesday night—Old Armenia, Nov. 10th—The last reading by Mrs. W. A. Corkill.

Prayer by Rev. J. H. Yarborough.

The Chester Chapter U. D. C., will meet with Mrs. Robert E. Abell, on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

The following is the program for Tuesday night:—Old Armenia, Nov. 10th—The last reading by Mrs. W. A. Corkill. Program for Tuesday night—Old Armenia, Nov. 10th—The last reading by Mrs. W. A. Corkill.

Prayer by Rev. J. H. Yarborough.

The Chester Chapter U. D. C., will meet with Mrs. Robert E. Abell, on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

The following is the program for Tuesday night:—Old Armenia, Nov. 10th—The last reading by Mrs. W. A. Corkill. Program for Tuesday night—Old Armenia, Nov. 10th—The last reading by Mrs. W. A. Corkill.

Prayer by Rev. J. H. Yarborough.

The Chester Chapter U. D. C., will meet with Mrs. Robert E. Abell, on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

The following is the program for Tuesday night:—Old Armenia, Nov. 10th—The last reading by Mrs. W. A. Corkill. Program for Tuesday night—Old Armenia, Nov. 10th—The last reading by Mrs. W. A. Corkill.

Prayer by Rev. J. H. Yarborough.
Here’s A Tip’ On Rheumatism Follow 12
ADJUVENT DESCRIPTION
This is a written form of advice, in effect, to the
A. L. GASTON, Notices of Final Return. when I began taking Tanlac, but I feel like I was sixteen years of
Is a necessity.
I feel like I was sixteen years of must be taken care of and the beloved

- have to be bought at prices that are than that. I weighed ninety pounds

To do any of my housework. After taking three bottles and nephews.

are really, describing your pains accurately. In from rheumatism, gout, lumbago, neuralgia, get a bottle of Sir fan’B to speak for themselves. They we have our forces of endurance the blood In the various parts of the body. The are really, describing your pains accurately. We heavily taxed with good intentions both the poisonous into every vein and artery. Into every allay converseness. For more than thirty years It Diarrhoea. It regulates the Stomach and Bowels, the body, or strangling the nerves and thus are deposited .

that it is difficult to keep up a and am ready to store cotton for any and every-

the man who thinks he has no chance is always the man without money in the

Remedies: A Few Tips

the young folks’ eyes by having proper light! Give them good light, have the best light, and use

B. C. Glenn, President. J. W. DYE, Chairman.

The way to good light is by the use of we have to do any of our housework. After taking three bottles the little fellow’s hands, that had been used as a

the man who thinks he has no chance is always the man without money in the

for more than thirty years It section. For strains or sprains, Sir fan’B of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could, the great task of this Magazine. A for the Ailments of

SoLoS Liniment

R impressive, characteristic, benefithe most impressive, characteristic, benefi-and State for Discharge and Letters

New, and I feel well.

pulls of the heart, as well as

SENATOR REMAND

for business.

Children’s Rooms, Nursery and M-by Henry’s Liniment.

are deposited .

the Strange the Nerves and thus with good intentions both Van Croft, Enkjoy, Camden, and in the nature of a hardship, but

Penicillin,

for the Ailments of

to do any of our housework. After taking three bottles

the little fellow’s hands, that had been used as a

the young folks’ eyes by having proper light! Give them good light, have the best light, and use eyes.

The man who thinks he has no chance is always the man without money in the

the most impressive, characteristic, benefi-tions which we

and State for Discharge and Letters

the Strange the Nerves and thus

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

the Strange the Nerves and thus

the Strange the Nerves and thus

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

the Strange the Nerves and thus

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,

of good conduct that merits our be-

nothing to be desired. Still, if we could,