One of Winthrop's most delightful features is the presence of the ladies of the Senior Class. For several years now the object of the Senior class has been to establish a unique and attractive tradition for the school. On April 9th, nearly a hundred students gathered in the gymnasium, under the direction of the President of the Student Council, and a group of Senior members were initiated into the Senior Class. Among those who were initiated were: Miss Marcy, Miss Voshoff, Mrs. Mosely, Miss Hook, Miss Jimmie, Miss Mary, Miss Mary Sloan, and Miss Pauline Brock. The ceremony included the presentation of a bouquet of flowers to the new members and the singing of a special Senior Class song. The evening concluded with a social hour during which the new members were introduced to the faculty and the student body.

Among the highlights of the Senior Class year was the Senior Class Dance held on the weekend of April 10th. The dance was held in the Winthrop School Auditorium and was attended by the entire student body. The dance featured music by the Winthrop College Orchestra and a variety of dance styles were performed. The evening concluded with a social hour during which the new members were introduced to the faculty and the student body.

Among the events of the year was the Senior Class Trip to Charleston. The trip was a three-day journey that included visits to some of the city's most famous landmarks, including the Battery and the Market House. The trip was a great success, and the students returned home with many fond memories of their trip to Charleston.
College girls all want it—feminine appeal!

What girl doesn’t want attention and admiration from the opposite sex? That’s the one thing the average girl has, the most popular present in her life—feminine appeal. It’s something she’s been guarded against since childhood. She has heard music, movies, and plays. She is told that she must never be too full of herself, but always a little shy. That’s the idea of feminine appeal.

With this in mind, we must realize that the shoe is a thing of feminine appeal. It’s the only thing that can make her feel like a woman. It’s something she must have in order to be a woman. It’s the one thing that can make her feel like a woman.

There is a wide difference in the shoes you will buy for Easter. There are shoes that are meant for the prom, and there are shoes that are meant for the church. There are shoes that are meant for the beach, and there are shoes that are meant for the office. There is a shoe for every occasion.
