POSTMASTER GENERAL IS GUEST OF WINSTON

Cabinet Member is Guest of Honor at WinthropPost Office Opening Day Ceremony

On Thursday evening Winthrop College was the scene of an event which will be long remembered.

Mr. Brown and his party have been traveling in the South for some time, and on Monday, April 4, they arrived at Waycross, Georgia, after a long trip by train. They were welcomed by a group of students, who presented them with a souvenir book, inscribed "To Mr. Brown and his party, from the students of Winthrop College." Mr. Brown expressed his appreciation of the gift and declared that he would treasure it as a memento of his visit.

Winning was in fine health and spirits, and his party was equally well. They were all enthusiastic about the trip, and expressed the hope that they would return to Winthrop College as soon as possible.

The evening was spent in socializing and making arrangements for the opening of the post office on Friday, April 5. The event was much looked forward to by the students, who had been waiting for it for some time.

Winning was in fine health and spirits, and his party was equally well. They were all enthusiastic about the trip, and expressed the hope that they would return to Winthrop College as soon as possible.

The post office opened for business at 9:00 a.m. on Friday, April 5. The students were on hand to greet the first customers, and the post office was soon swarming with activity. The day ended with a ceremony in the auditorium, where a speech was delivered by Mr. Brown, expressing his congratulations to the administration and students of Winthrop College for the opening of the post office.

The event was a great success, and the students were all pleased with the arrangements made for the opening. Winning was in fine health and spirits, and his party was equally well. They were all enthusiastic about the trip, and expressed the hope that they would return to Winthrop College as soon as possible.
Zines because it is required? Are a martyred air? Are you reading operations to the last detail. Code will result if we observe the regulations. A great deal of unnecessary form. A definite prescribed regulations.

Are, then you might as well talking with people because they its because you think it is a lot not guarantee you an education. It is a trait to be admired, but foremost production; therefore righting wrongs, which would L...

You coming to college does not make you a time become their pet worry. The extreme case he loses the chance of children; he isn't given the op...

Winthrop Students and Faculty

New Service

What: The 1960 Johnsonian girls are on the verge of new fame since they have succeeded in introducing the new service of “Tape Service” to the campus. For the first time in the history of Winthrop, a special service of Taps by students has been inaugurated.

Why: The nominating committee feels that this new service is a significant addition to the social life of the college, and that it will be of great benefit to the students.

When: The service is available from 11 p.m. to 1 a.m., and is open to all students.

Where: The service can be accessed by dialing the Johnsonian exchange, and then calling for the “Taps” extension.

How: To use the service, simply call the Johnsonian exchange and ask for “Taps.” The service will be provided by the members of the Freshman cabinet class, who have been trained in public speaking.

For more information, please contact the Freshman Freshman or the Johnsonian exchange.

Winthrop, May 2

THE JOHNSONIAN
spent last week-end In Durham, N. C. in Columbia for the holidays.

Miss Stella Bradfield spent the holidays in Greensboro.

Eva and Columbia for the holidays.

Days with her sister in Greenville.

Jackson at her home in Duncan.

Teacher's meeting.

Miss Stella Bradfield spent the holidays in Greensboro.

Mrs. Bertha Willis visited York and Greenwood.

Mrs. Cavitt visited her daughter in South Carolina for the holiday season.

Greensboro.

Mrs. Cavitt visited her daughter in South Carolina for the holiday season.

Jackson at her home in Duncan.