Briefly Speaking of People and Things Cassially

Nature handed us of the staff this month. It's a usual weather to help the remaining effect of sun and the heat of the season. We're glad to more to scour the campus for tidbits, to put New Wine at Points
New points on the "Chow-down" Old Bottles, and to greet again from this neck of The Johnsonian. With high hopes for a good year, we hand you page nine.

This we dedicate to freshmen men only. We aren't going to preach; we're only going to give you a dash of the "How To Live at College and Like It" wisdom that has taken us years to learn for our selves. Now that your orientation week is over, and now that you're to do your share of living
Frosh Words of Class

This year we've returned to a Winthrop whose enrollment surprises us. We are proud that our Alma Mater can speak; we're proud that she is doing her part for South Carolina, but we'd like it better still were she able to expand her buildings to fit the demands of her increasing enrollment.
Girls Galore—Oh, would Housing Nil that our walls were made of rubber! But in all serenity, we'll like to congratulate the freshmen that had to be pushed around and accommodated willingly, for the chance they've received their sentence. We'd like to hand them banquetes, but think they would more appreciate beds to park their new saddle fozards under. We're pleased for that new dormitory—our wishes must come true.

Each year when we return we always look for, and find, changes. At this moment we and gazing back at the foremost in our thoughts. At present we aren't exactly sure what this will change from forty-five minutes to an hour. We only hope that the idea will mean better-than-usual programs—programs that hold us while dinner awakes us.

Thank our advertisers when you visit their stores.

Fifty-Three Valedictorians At Winthrop
Fifty-three high school valedictorians have chosen Winthrop as the place to continue their training. Featured on the left and below, these freshmen finished high school with highest scholastic honors. Not only top rankers in their high schools, many of the girls were student government presidents, editors of their newspapers, or basketball captains. The valedictorians are featured in "Miss Hi-Miners" in last year's high school edition of "The Johnsonian."

Masquer Members

_Tell of Summer Work_

The first Masquer meeting of the season was held in the Green room, formerly the Morrison and Johnson hall yesterday morning. Miss Florence Mims, advisor, opened the meeting by explaining to the group the reason for the change in the meeting room, and Du Eves, Miss Eliza Du Eves, and Carolann Mariein, Eleanor McDermott, and Margaret Wilma, who are unable to attend are asked to notify Virginia Black, chairman of the Archery Club to Discuss Yearly Program, Picnic."

_Miss Tennant, after observing Frances form, gave her some helpful hints on improving her back hand before praising her so highly, and then came the climax for the whole afternoon's edification of 'Miss Tennant present- ed Frances one of her own racquets as a gift."

"It was a pleasure for me to give the racquet to Frances," added Miss Tennant later, "because I like to see a girl with talent."

*When introducing Frances to Miss Marble, Miss Tennant said, "This is the girl I who told you had such good coordination."

In the afternoon the Winthrop group attended the exhibitions of Archery, woman national champion, and Mary Arnold, third ranking woman player, Russell Hubster of Allentown, and Ted Barnett of Charlotte were also playing.

They're the Summer School Beauties

Selected from a group of some 20 summer school students, the four girls above composed the summer session beauty court. Angeline Towl was named queen, and with her are Jean Maclay (Registrar's office), Helen Hutto, and Rachel Kennedy (Rock Hill high school faculty). The beauty contest was a feature of the "Summer School Varieties."
