Candidiates Must Take Stump in Ruling

Methods of selecting Student Government officials were considered and voted on by members of the Constitutional Convention at a meeting Wednesday night in the Englishtown High School, Millville. The plan of election formulated by the Constitutional Convention and provided for by Horace Drakes was adopted by a vote of 10 to 8 in the convention's report on the platform, that of the Student Body, which was tabled. The plan on which this report was based is one that is to be adopted by the Student Body at the first meeting after the convention has convened on the campus. The vote for the adoption of the plan on which this report was based is to be taken on the campus. Those upholding the new organization will have the right to have the Student Body meet at a specified time and place to hear the views of the convention and to hear the views of the Student Body at the specified time and place. The plan of election formulated by the Constitutional Convention and the plan of organization adopted by the Student Body at the first meeting after the convention has convened on the campus is to be adopted by the Student Body at the first meeting after the convention has convened on the campus.

A Forum for Discussion of Campus Concerns by ELIZABETH CESPEDES

One more time, my friends, and I wish to say goodbye.

There have been good times and bad times. There have been successes and failures. But through it all, we have remained committed to the principles that guide us.

On the morning of the first day of the third week, I woke up with a sense of urgency. I knew that something had to be done.

We gathered in the auditorium, where we were met by the presiding officer, Mr. Johnson. He welcomed us and reminded us of the importance of our work.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Johnson. He introduced the keynote speaker, Dr. Grace King, who spoke about the challenges we face as a campus community.

Dr. King spoke about the importance of unity and cooperation. She emphasized the need for us to work together to achieve our goals.

The discussion then turned to the topic of diversity. Mr. Johnson led a discussion on how we can increase diversity on our campus.

The meeting concluded with a call to action. We were reminded of the power of our voices and encouraged to use them to make a difference.

Thank you for your time and attention. May the spirit of unity and cooperation guide us as we move forward.

The meeting adjourned.

Briefly of People and Things

Compass with Rosanne Guess

Well, here I am again a little late and I’ve found a new picture under the old agate stone. "Romanticism" always does this to me. And this one has it in spades. Miss Alice Hufelman, who has taught English at this college for years, is machine to the point where she can barely keep up with her class even though she has a new typewriter and a new system of teaching. I hear that she is now considering a move to a larger room because her present one is too small for her classes.

My next stop was the campus where I found the students making plans for the upcoming football game. They are looking forward to a great season and are already discussing their favorite plays and teams.

The next stop was the library where I found the librarian busily organizing the new collection of books for the fall semester. She is always looking for ways to improve the library and is excited about the new acquisitions.

Finally, I visited the art department where I found a group of students working on a special project for the upcoming art show. They are planning to create a series of paintings based on the works of famous artists.

Basketball Opens With 174 Out Says Reeder

STUDY OF HEALTH TO BE LAUNCHED

A study of student health habits and physical education under the direction of Miss Peggy Muller, who is now chairman of the physical education program, was presented Tuesday afternoon in the gym, according to Dorothy Reeder, chairman of basketball.

Because the study is of the health aspect of basketball, it is considered important to be conducted as a team tournament rather than an individual tournament. As such, the study will be conducted by Miss Muller, who will be in charge of the study team.

A post to Lecture on Costumes

Miss Julia Post, head of the physical education department, will give an informal lecture on the basics of basketball in the gym at noon tomorrow afternoon. This lecture will be followed by a discussion of the study of health habits and physical education.
