

Ms. in the Classroom presents:

Teaching Women's Studies Online

Join us for a workshop

March 31, 2016; 9:00am–12:30pm

Winthrop University/SEWSA Conference

At this workshop we will feature:

- ✓ Adapting existing courses for online delivery and/or developing new “born digital” courses
- ✓ Best practices in online course design and feminist pedagogy
- ✓ Digital tools for developing interactive, multi-media assignments and projects
- ✓ Using social media in an online course
- ✓ Engaging students with digital resources for the feminist classroom, including the new Ms. Digital Readers “Gender, Race & Class” and “Introduction to Women’s Studies.” And more...

Workshop led by: Kelly Finely, M.A., Women’s and Gender Studies, UNC, Charlotte and Michele Tracy Berger, Ph.D., Women’s and Gender Studies, UNC, Chapel Hill

With: Karon Jolna, Ph.D., Program Director, Ms. in the Classroom

Date: Thursday, March 31, 2016, 9:00am – 12:30pm: Pre-conference session

Location: Winthrop University, room TBD

Registration: No charge for workshop, registration required. To register complete form below and email to Karon Jolna at kjolna@msmagazine.com

Registration Deadline: January 31, 2016

Space limited. To reserve, please fill out and email or fax to:
email: kjolna@msmagazine.com; fax: (310) 556-2509

Name _____

Affiliation _____

Courses taught _____ Number of students _____

Office phone _____ Cell phone _____

Email _____